postmodernism Approaching it primarily from a sociological perspective while incorporating insights from psychology and philosophy it portrays the modern self as a unitary coherent unified subject created in the time of modernity which during postmodernism has evolved into a fluid decentralized and fragmented subject with increasingly independent multiple identities The creation of the modern self has been influenced by individualization rationalization and power Each factor is explored in a separate chapter detailing its impact on the development of the modern Cartesian self The authors draw on the theories of Goffman Bauman and Baudrillard to illustrate the changing nature of the self viewing it as a performer a fluid entity and a simulacrum While Goffman is not strictly a postmodern author his ideas foreshadow postmodernism particularly regarding the transformation of the self Bauman and Baudrillard as key figures in postmodern thought provide valuable insights into this transformation of the self in contemporary times The book uniquely connects two time periods in which the self evolves arguing that social factors influence its changing characteristics As these social factors shift over time so does the self Key aspects of the self and its evolution are examined through an original multidimensional approach that spans a longer time interval Modernity and Postmodernity ,1984 Missiological Mutilations - Perspective Paralogies Jørgen Skov Sørensen,2007 Revision of the author s thesis Ph D University of Birmingham 2005 Leisure and Tourism Scott Fleming,2009 Sociology ,2000 Social Research Tim May,2001-09 May examines the research process in general and aspects of its practice in particular in order to bridge the gap between theory and methods This expanded edition incorporates the latest developments in social research Christian Scholar's Review ,2003 Sociology in Theology Kieran Flanagan,2007-09-05 Sociology has taken a recent and unexpected theological turn that has radical implications for reflexivity This original study explores these in four areas visual aspects of reflexivity and theology Simmel and Mauss on prayer as a form of spiritual capital identity and the constitution of character and finally and most controversially a reflection on sociological expectations of theology This is one of the few works that explores a new terrain with profound implications for sociology and theology Challenging Knowledge Gerard Delanty,2001 For far too long we have waited for a book that recorded the ideas of the modern university Now in Gerard Delanty s new book we have it Delanty has faithfully set out the views of the key thinkers and in the process has emerged with an idea of the university that is his We are in his debt Professor Ronald Barnett University of London Gerard Delanty is one of the most productive and thought provoking social theorists currently writing in the UK He brings to his work a sophisticated and impressively cosmopolitan vision Here he turns his attention to higher education bringing incisive analysis and a surprising optimism as regards the future of the university This is a book which will stimulate all thinking people especially those trying to come to terms with mass higher education and its tribulations Professor Frank Webster University of Birmingham For too long social theory the sociology of knowledge and studies in higher education have mutually ignored each other Gerard Delanty founding editor of the European Journal of Social Theory was just the right person to bring them into dialogue Indeed dialogue and communication are his watchwords for revamping the institutional mission of the university Professor Steve Fuller University of Warwick Drawing from current debates in social theory about the changing nature of knowledge this book offers the most comprehensive sociological theory of the university that has yet appeared The famous philosophical conceptions of the university from the Enlightenment to postmodern thought are discussed along with the major writings in modern social theory on the university such as those of Weber Parsons Habermas Gadamer Lyotard and Bourdieu In this far reaching contribution to the sociology of knowledge Delanty views the university as a key institution of modernity and as the site where knowledge culture and society interconnect He assesses the question of the crisis of the university with respect to issues such as globalization the information age the nation state academic capitalism cultural politics and changing relationships between research and teaching Arguing against the notion of the demise of the university his argument is that in the knowledge society of today a new identity for the university is emerging based on communication and new conceptions of citizenship It will be essential

Post-modernity, Paganism, and Islam Jalalul Haq,1999 Resistance and Consciousness in Kenya and South Africa Anders Breidlid,2002 This study undertakes an analysis of the models of response resistance non agency to colonial apartheid and post colonial imposition which are posited in the novels of the Kenyan author Ngugi wa Thiong o and the South African writer Alex La Guma Such a focus involves related issues such as the relationship between the consciousness level of the subaltern and his her capacity for resistance and how oppression affects self construction and consciousness Since the book deals with resistance and consciousness within the textual space of the novels the central issue raised in the study is explored around questions of representation The study places the texts in the historical and political context of colonial and post colonial Kenya and apartheid South Africa The study analyses the development of the two authors literary careers and distinguishes between two phases in the two authors fiction viz their counter hegemonic and their combat fiction While the counter hegemonic fiction resists essentialist representation of subaltern consciousness and rejects an essentialist view of resistance as an obvious non contradictory act the study claims that their combat literature is a more direct uncompromising and often one dimensional reaction and struggle against the oppressor Responses to Governance John E. Dixon,David Goodwin,Jack Wing,2003-04-30 Dixon and his colleagues provide a behaviorist perspective on governance Their concern is with the governed s responses to those who seek to govern them their governors and the counter responses that they induce from the governors They take as axiomatic that the governed are not a homogenized and amorphous them in the them us dichotomy reduced to what Carlyle called a dead logic formula thereby for the purpose of this analysis leave begging all the relevant questions The governed are not a disembodied abstraction they are an aggregate of men and women of flesh and blood In a corporation they are corporate directors whose governors are those who own or perhaps have a stake in that corporation corporate managers whose governors are the corporate directors corporate employees whose governors are the corporate managers In a society they are individuals or groups of individuals perhaps in corporations located within its jurisdiction whose governors are the members of societal political and administrative elites At the global level they are individuals or groups of individuals in countries and corporations within the jurisdiction of international governmental organizations and international regimes whose governors are those who seek to control those global governance mechanisms Whether the governed s response to their governors processs is one of compliance or antagonism and how the governors response to any antagoism has implications for governance capacity good governance and governability A provocative study that will be of interest to students and scholars of political theory international relations and management and organizational Handbook of Feminist Research Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber,2007 The topic feminist research has too often been neglected in standard research methods books The Handbook of Feminist Research represents the establishment of a new tradition or paradigm in viewing how the research process is implemented Feminist researchers bring unique epistemological and methodological perspectives to the research process Feminists approach to methodology allows for new types of questions about women s lives and those of other ed marginalized groups to be addressed within their respective fields of research This Handbook stresses the interconnections between epistemology methodology and methods They are not de linked from each other but work together in dynamic ways to produce new knowledge and this openness itself is also characteristic of how feminist researchers approach their work Feminists engage synergistically with all three aspects of the research process epistemology methodology and method Through a synergistic connection between these elements of research epistemology methodology and method we find that feminist research often shapes new research endeavors that are greater than the sum of their parts In other words while traditional research employs these components of research the synergistic engagement of these components in feminist research questions the status quo aiming to raise our consciousness about how we do research Looking at the selections provided in this Handbook we are able to look at feminist research its implementation of synergistic use of epistemology methodology and method and the resulting qualities of feminist research in practice Discursive Constructions of Identity in European Politics Richard C.
