Reading Is My Window Megan Sweeney, 2010-02-15 Drawing on extensive interviews with ninety four women prisoners Megan Sweeney examines how incarcerated women use available reading materials to come to terms with their pasts negotiate their present experiences and reach toward different futures Foregrounding the voices of African American women Sweeney analyzes how prisoners read three popular genres narratives of victimization urban crime fiction and self help books She outlines the history of reading and education in U S prisons highlighting how the increasing dehumanization of prisoners has resulted in diminished prison libraries and restricted opportunities for reading Although penal officials have sometimes endorsed reading as a means to control prisoners Sweeney illuminates the resourceful ways in which prisoners educate and empower themselves through reading Given the scarcity of counseling and education in prisons women use books to make meaning from their experiences to gain guidance and support to experiment with new ways of being and to maintain connections with the world

The Story Within Us Megan Sweeney, 2012-09-11 This volume features in depth oral interviews with eleven incarcerated women each of whom offers a narrative of her life and her reading experiences within prison walls The women share powerful stories about their complex and diverse efforts to negotiate difficult relationships exercise agency in restrictive circumstances and find meaning and beauty in the midst of pain Their shared emphases on abuse poverty addiction and mental illness illuminate the pathways that lead many women to prison and suggest possibilities for addressing the profound social problems that fuel crime Framing the narratives within an analytic introduction and reflective afterword Megan Sweeney highlights the crucial intellectual work that the incarcerated women perform despite myriad restrictions on reading and education in U S prisons These women use the limited reading materials available to them as sources of guidance and support and as tools for self reflection and self education Through their creative engagements with books the women learn to reframe their own life stories situate their experiences in relation to broader social patterns deepen their understanding of others experiment with new ways of being and maintain a sense of connection with their fellow citizens on both sides of the prison fence
