Update on Student Loan Repayment & Forgiveness Programs Adam S. Minsky, 2022 Student Loan Repayment Guide Colorado Guaranteed Student Loan Program, 1989 Student Loan Repayment Guide Colorado Student Loan Program, 1987 Guide to Repaying Your B.C. Student Loan British Columbia. Ministry of Advanced Education, 2008 The Obama Administration's New 'REPAYE' Plan for Student Loan Borrowers Gregory S. Crespi, 2016

In response to President Obama's 2014 directive the DOE has proposed a new student loan repayment option labeled the Repay As You Earn Plan REPAYE Plan. The DOE on July 9 2015 requested comments on their proposed REPAYE Plan rules and the Plan will probably be open for enrollment in early 2016 for up to 6 million student loan borrowers who are not eligible for enrollment in the generous Pay As You Earn Plan PAYE Plan because of their pre October 1 2007 federal student loan debts. I estimate that approximately 72 000 of those 6 million persons are law graduates. However I also estimate that approximately 62% of those 72 000 law graduates have already enrolled in either the Income Based Repayment Plan IBR Plan or the Income Contingent Repayment Plan ICR Plan. Most of those persons among the remaining group of about 27 500 PAYE Plan ineligible law graduates who have not already enrolled in a loan repayment Plan if they later do decide to enroll will enroll in the old IBR Plan rather than the new REPAYE Plan because of the REPAYE Plan's harsh spousal income inclusion rules. The largest group of REPAYE Plan law graduate enrollees in 2016 will be those old IBR or ICR Plan enrollees who expect to have relatively modest spousal incomes over the coming two decades and who consequently will in many instances be able to reduce their monthly repayment obligations by switching over to the REPAYE Plan. For the REPAYE Plan to be made more broadly attractive to other law graduates especially to those more recent law graduates eligible for PAYE Plan enrollment the required repayment period for law graduates would have to be reduced to 20 years and the spousal income inclusion rules eliminated. Such an amendment to the REPAYE Plan rules could be made by the Department of Education under existing statutory authority and would not require additional Congressional authorization. But this is unlikely because of the politically controversial lost governmental revenue implications and because of opposition from those persons within the DOE and elsewhere who regard the existing PAYE Plan's terms as too generous to high debt graduate school borrowers and who would not want to see those terms made available to a broader group of law graduate borrowers.

Final Student Loan Payments and Broader Household Borrowing Thomas S. Conkling, 2019

Student loans make up an increasing share of consumer debt in the U.S. particularly for younger borrowers. Research has shown that borrowers vary greatly in their ability to pay off their loans and in how quickly they can do so. This Data Point provides a closer look at borrowers' use of credit as they approach and make their final student loan payments and in the months that follow. Key findings include: Most borrowers paying off a student loan do so before the final payment is due, often with a single large final payment. The median final payment made on a student loan is 55 times larger than the scheduled payment, implying a payoff at least 55 months ahead of schedule Borrowers paying off a student loan early are 31 percent more likely to take out their first mortgage loan in the year following the payoff than during the year preceding the payoff In the same month as the payoff these borrowers also reduce their credit card balances and make large payments on their other student loans The smaller share of borrowers who pay off a loan according to the scheduled payments pay down rather than take on other debt in the months following payoff Paying off a loan reduces borrowers monthly payment obligations and those with additional student loans put 24 percent of these savings toward paying down their other student loans faster Student Loan Borrowers Potentially At-risk when Payment Suspension Ends Thomas Conkling,Christa Gibbs,Vanessa Jimenez-Read,2022
