Facebook Nation Newton Lee, 2014-10-16 Facebook's psychological experiments and Edward Snowden's NSA leaks epitomize a world of increasing information awareness in the social media ecosystem. With over a billion monthly active users, Facebook as a nation is overtaking China as the largest country in the world. President Barack Obama in his 2011 State of the Union Address called America the nation of Edison and the Wright brothers and of Google and Facebook. U.S. Chief Information Officer Steven VanRoekel opines that America has become a Facebook nation that demands increased transparency and interactivity from the federal government. Ubiquitous social networks such as Facebook, Google, Twitter, and YouTube are creating the technologies, infrastructures, and big data necessary for Total Information Awareness, a controversial surveillance program proposed by DARPA after the 9/11 attacks. NSA's secret PRISM program has reinvigorated WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange's accusation that Facebook is the most appalling spying machine that has ever been invented. Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg once said, "We exist at the intersection of technology and social issues." This book offers discourse and practical advice on the privacy issue in the age of big data, business intelligence in social media, e-government, and e-activism, as well as personal total information awareness. This expanded edition also includes insights from Wikipedian Emily Temple Wood and Facebook ROI experts Dennis Yu and Alex Houq. Modern

Finding Communities in Social Networks Using Graph Embeddings Mosab Alfaqeeh, David B. Skillicorn, 2024-06-29 Community detection in social networks is an important but challenging problem This book develops a new technique for finding communities that uses both structural similarity and attribute similarity simultaneously weighting them in a principled way The results outperform existing techniques across a wide range of measures and so advance the state of the art in community detection Many existing community detection techniques base similarity on either the structural connections among social network users or on the overlap among the attributes of each user Either way loses useful information There have been some attempts to use both structure and attribute similarity but success has been limited We first build a large real world dataset by crawling Instagram producing a large set of user profiles We then compute the similarity between pairs of users based on four qualitatively different profile properties similarity of language used in posts similarity of hashtags used which requires extraction of content from them similarity of images displayed which requires extraction of what each image is about and the explicit connections when one user follows another These single modality similarities are converted into graphs These graphs have a common node set the users but different sets a weighted edges These graphs are then connected into a single larger graph by connecting the multiple nodes representing the same user by a clique with edge weights derived from a lazy random walk view of the single graphs This larger graph can then be embedded in a geometry using spectral techniques In the embedding distance corresponds to dissimilarity so geometric clustering techniques can be used to find communities The resulting communities are evaluated using the entire range of current techniques outperforming all of them Topic modelling is also applied to clusters to show that they genuinely represent users with similar interests This can form the basis for applications such as online marketing or key influence selection
