Moderne architectuur in Nederland Paul Groenendijk, Piet Vollaard, 1992 Urban Oases, Dutch Hofjes as Hidden Architectural Gems Willemijn Wilms Floet, 2022-04-06 Urban Oases is an ode to the architecture of Dutch hofjes It explains why hofjes have been a natural and attractive part of the urban fabric of the Netherlands for six centuries and why they continue to appeal to new generations The appeal of hofje architecture lies in its ability to renew its medieval archetype an enclosed living environment around a shared green garden Hofjes allow both residents and visitors to enjoy an especially serene and intimate atmosphere that contrasts surprisingly with the urban experience of hustle and bustle The drawings text and photography of Urban Oases take the reader to the capillaries of old Dutch cities and are relevant to an important contemporary global question How can high quality compact residential environments be created in twenty first century cities Inspired by this extraordinary architectural heritage the author addresses everyone who wants to contribute to a sustainable and liveable city This book is part of a series of open access books published jointly by TU Delft OPEN Publishing and nai010 Architectuur Lokaal #49 , Architectuur Lokaal #19 José van Campen, 1997 ZZDP, architecten-ondernemers Noor Mens, 2004 A thorough overview in words and visual material of the work of one of this country's largest architectural firms Founded in 1954 by Piet Zanstra ZZDP grew into one of the Netherlands largest architectural practices in the 1960s and 70s ZZDP steps off from the architect's own responsibility in working to achieve the highest architectural quality The designer adopts a businesslike and pragmatic role with ideological and theoretical reflections taking a back seat Originally ZZDP specialized mainly in housing and by extension facilities indispensable to dwelling With the collapse of the housing market at the end of the 1970s ZZDP turned to designing offices until housing returned to the portfolio in the 90s Who Owns Whom , 2008 The Architectural Network of the Van Neurenberg

Family in the Low Countries (1480-1640) G. van Tussenbroek, 2006 Stone traders initially based in the Meuse valley the Van Neurenberg family expanded northwards to Nijmegen and Dordrecht from 1530 on becoming an international trading company in the process Their subsequent activities reflect the huge changes the Dutch building sector underwent during the 17th century They cooperated with the most famous artists of their time such as Hendrick de Keyser in Amsterdam and were involved in the most modern building projects of the Dutch Golden Age such as Frederik Hendrik of Orange's Honselaarsdijk Palace This study offers new insights into a relatively neglected aspect of Netherlandish building history in the 16th and 17th century Dr Gabri van Tussenbroek 1969 studied art history and medieval history at Utrecht University Since 1 January 2006 he has worked as municipal building archaeologist in Amsterdam

A Critical History of Photography in the Netherlands Saskia Asser, 2007 The themes of the Dutch Eyes exhibition were chosen for their significance to the history of photography as well as to the country's cultural history Areas of particular interest include distinctive 19th century photographs taken by engineers the debate about photography's status as an art form at the start of the 20th century the catastrophic flood in 1953 the former colonies and U 2018 the self critical gaze This thematic approach makes it possible to see work by famous photographers alongside work by unknown figures who wielded the camera The exhibition includes an abundance of work that has never previously been shown from collections including those of the Rijksmuseum Stedelijk Museum Amsterdam Leiden University's Print Room Amsterdam City Archives and the Nederlands Fotomuseum
