Africa Reimagined Hlumelo Biko, 2021-01-15 Steve Biko argued that the most potent weapon in the hands of the oppressor is the mind of the oppressed Hlumelo Biko unpacks this in its practical import and shows how changing the situation can transform Africa

A World of Giving Patricia L Rosenfield, 2014-11-04 The age of international philanthropy is upon us Today many of America's most prominent foundations support institutions or programs abroad but few have been active on the global stage for as long as Carnegie Corporation of New York A World of Giving provides a thorough objective examination of the international activities of Carnegie Corporation one of America's oldest and most respected philanthropic institutions which was created by steel baron Andrew Carnegie in 1911 to support the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding The book explains in detail the grantmaking process aimed at promoting understanding across cultures and research in many nations across the world A World of Giving highlights the vital importance of Carnegie Corporation's mission in guiding its work and the role of foundation presidents as thought and action leaders The presidents trustees and later on staff members are the human element that drives philanthropy and they are the lens through which to view the inner workings of philanthropic institutions with all of their accompanying strengths and limitations especially when embarking on international activities It also does not shy away from controversy including early missteps in Canada race and poverty issues in the 1930s and 1980s related to South Africa promotion of area studies affected by the McCarthy Era the critique of technical assistance in developing countries the century long failure to achieve international understanding on the part of Americans and recent critiques by Australian historians of the Corporation's nation transforming work there This is a comprehensive review of one foundation's work on the international stage as well as a model for how philanthropy can be practiced in a deeply interconnected world where conflicts abound but progress can be spurred by thoughtful forward looking institutions following humanistic principles

Responding to Environmental Issues through Adaptive

Collaborative Management Carol J. Pierce Colfer, Ravi Prabhu, 2023-03-15 Focused on forest management and governance this book examines two decades of experience with Adaptive Collaborative Management ACM assessing both its uses and improvements needed to address global environmental issues The volume argues that the activation and the empowerment of local peoples are critical to addressing current environmental challenges and that this must be enhanced by linking and extending such stewardship to global and national policymakers and actors on a broader scale This can be achieved by employing ACM's participatory approach characterized by conscious efforts among stakeholders to communicate collaborate negotiate and seek out opportunities to learn collectively about the impacts of their action The case studies presented here reflect decades of experience working with forest communities in three Indonesian Islands and four African countries Researchers and practitioners who participated in CIFOR's early ACM work had the rare opportunity to return to their research sites decades later to see what has happened These authors reflect critically on their own experience and local site conditions to glean insights that guide us in more effectively addressing climate change and other forest related challenges. They showcase how global and regional actors will have to work more closely with smallholders, Indigenous Peoples and local communities recognizing the key local roles in forest stewardship. This book will be of great interest to students, scholars and practitioners working in the fields of conservation, forest management, community development, natural resource management and development studies more broadly. Domestic and Regional Environmental Laws and Policies in Africa Jean-Claude N. Ashukem, Semie M. Sama, 2023-11-10. This book explores African domestic and regional responses and approaches to environmental protection and sustainability. Written by African experts, the collection consists of five parts covering the whole of Africa. It provides broad coverage of specific themes including environmental constitutionalism, climate change, gender and the environment, wildlife trade, environmental justice and human displacement. The key aims are first to explore theoretical and empirical studies to interrogate and provide clarity on academic discourse on how and whether environmental human rights approaches and policy implications have effectively enhanced environmental protection and sustainability at African domestic levels. Second to investigate and present innovative solutions on how African domestic legal regimes deal with environmental justice, natural resources governance, refugees, environmental rights and climate induced displaced persons. Finally to propose innovative legal and institutionalised solutions to Africa's ecological realities by determining the legal and regulatory gaps on environmental human rights issues on the continent. The collection will be a valuable resource for researchers, academics and policymakers in human rights law, environmental law, political science, ecology and conservation, environmental management, disaster management and development studies.

Corruption and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2020-03-12. This collection of essays focuses on the critical issue of corruption that lies at the heart of the crisis of constitutionalism in Africa. Most anti corruption measures over the years have been inadequate, serving merely as symbolic gestures to give the impression something is being done. The African Union's declaration of 2018 as the African anti corruption year belated though it be, is an open recognition by African governments of the impact corruption will have on the continent unless urgent steps are taken. The key objective of this volume is to draw attention to the problem of corruption, the complexity of the situation with all its multi faceted social political economic and legal dimensions and the need for remedial action Dynamic Industrial Policy in Africa United Nations. Economic Commission for Africa, 2014 For millions of Africans growth is yet to translate into jobs and better living conditions Africa's largely commodity driven growth has not been matched by the much needed structural change that can lead to economic transformation employment and reduced poverty Market failures necessitate industrial policy interventions Yet in the absence of the right processes and institutions good industrial policies will fail Indeed weak institutions and poor policy design have hindered industrial policy This report gives a framework for getting the policy process right to foster industrialization It uses 11 country case studies to assess the critical ingredients for spurring industrialization innovative institutions effective processes and flexible mechanisms and structural transformation African-Asian Encounters Arndt Graf, Azirah Hashim, 2025-10-01 In recent decades ties between Africa and Asia have greatly increased And while most of the scholarly attention to the phenomenon has focused on China often with an emphasis on asymmetric power relations in both politics and economics this book takes a much broader view looking at various small and medium sized actors in Asia and Africa in a wide range of fields It will be essential for scholars working on Asian African studies and will also offer insights for policymakers working in this fast changing field The African Studies Companion Hans M. Ghai, Yehualashet Mekonen, David Mugawe, Shimelis Tsegaye, 2010 This report is a sequel to The African Report on Child Wellbeing 2008 It updates many of the issues discussed therein and monitors the degree of progress made but at the same time it is also unique in that it singles out an important theme budgeting for children Science John Michels (Journalist), 2010 Regulating and Combating Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Nkechikwu Azinge-Egbiri, 2021-03-01 This book analytically reviews the impact of the global anti money laundering and counter terrorist financing AML CFT framework on the compliance trajectory of a number of jurisdictions to this framework The work begins by examining the international financial sector reform and its evolution to inculcate the global framework for AML CFT regulations It challenges the resulting uniform AML CFT due to its paradoxical impact on the compliance trajectory of African countries and emerging economies ACs EEs This is done through an examination of the pre conditions for effective regulation and compliance drivers for ACs EEs that reveals the behavioural impact of the AML CFT standards on the bloc of countries Through the application of agency theory it explores the relationship between ACs EEs on the one hand and the international financial institutions that formulate disseminate and facilitate compliance with the global framework for AML CFT standards on the other The remaining chapters review empirically the compliance pressures and resulting compliance trajectory of ACs EEs with the AML CFT standards The final part of the book provides a detailed explanation of the compliance challenges of ACs EEs and the legitimacy concerns that facilitate this This book offers a new direction on the impact of global AML CFT standards on ACs EEs and contributes to the understanding of the conditions under which the global standards are likely to facilitate proactive compliance within these blocs of countries As such it will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers working in this area
