Discourse, Dialogue and Technology Enhanced Learning Rachel Pilkington, 2015-11-19 Discourse Dialogue and Technology Enhanced Learning is invaluable to all those wanting to explore how dialogic processes work and how we facilitate them Dialogue is an important learning tool and it is by understanding how language affects us and how we use language to encourage empathise inquire argue and persuade that we come closer to understanding processes of change in ourselves and our society Most researchers in Education will find themselves interpreting some form of data in the form of words whether these words be explanations conversations narrations reflections debates or interviews and whether they are conducted through digital media or face to face Discourse textual or spoken is therefore central to researching education Each chapter focuses on the ways in which alternative levels of discourse analysis provide tools for the researcher enabling insights into the way language works in learning teaching practice and wider society Drawing on the author's own DISCOUNT discourse analysis coding scheme and including a wide range of dialogue examples this book covers Why Dialogue The Role of Dialogue in Education Debate Learning to Argue and Arguing to Learn Towards Meaning Making Inquiry Narrative and Experience The Role of the Significant Other Facilitation Scaffolding and Mediation Inclusion Collaboration and Community Media Mode and Digital Literacy Researching Voices and Texts Discourse Dialogue and Technology Enhanced Learning will be an essential resource for all students educators and educational researchers who have an interest in the role of discourse in educational contexts

Studying Virtual Math Teams Gerry Stahl, 2010-05-03 Studying Virtual Math Teams centers on detailed empirical studies of how students in small online groups make sense of math issues and how they solve problems by making meaning together These studies are woven together with materials that describe the online environment and pedagogical orientation as well as reflections on the theoretical implications of the findings in the studies The nature of group cognition and shared meaning making in collaborative learning is a foundational research issue in CSCL More generally the theme of sense making is a central topic in information science While many authors allude to these topics few have provided this kind of detailed analysis of the mechanisms of intersubjective meaning making This book presents a coherent research agenda that has been pursued by the author and his research group The book opens with descriptions of the project and its methodology as well as situating this research in the past and present context of the CSCL research field The core research team then presents five concrete analyses of group interactions in different phases of the Virtual Math Teams research project These chapters are followed by several studies by international collaborators discussing the group discourse the software affordances and alternative representations of the interaction all using data from the VMT project The concluding chapters address implications for the theory of group cognition and for the methodology of the learning sciences In addition to substantial introductory and concluding chapters this important new book includes analyses based upon the author's previous research thereby providing smooth continuity and an engaging flow that follows the progression of the research The VMT project has dual goals a to provide a source of experience and data for practical and theoretical explorations of group knowledge building and b to develop an effective online environment and educational service for collaborative learning of mathematics Studying Virtual Math Teams reflects these twin orientations reviewing the intertwined aims and development of a rigorous science of small group cognition and a Web 2.0 educational math service It documents the kinds of interactional methods that small groups use to explore math issues and provides a glimpse into the potential of online interaction to promote productive math discourse
