Citizenship in Myanmar Ashley South, Marie Lall, 2017-12-13 Myanmar is going through a period of profound and contested transition. The country has experienced widespread if sometimes uneven reforms including the start of a peace process between the government and Myanmar Army and some two dozen ethnic armed organizations which had long been fighting for greater autonomy from the militarized and Burman dominated state. This book brings together chapters by Burmese and foreign experts and contributions from community and political leaders who discuss the meaning of citizenship in Myanmar/Burma. The book explores citizenship in relation to three broad categories: issues of identity and conflict, debates around concepts and practices of citizenship, and inter and intra community issues including Buddhist-Muslim relations. This is the first volume to address these issues, understanding and resolving which will be central to Myanmar's continued transition away from violence and authoritarianism.

Part Five provides an international, regional, and comparative understanding of political communication in its various contexts. The SAGE Handbook of Political Communication is an essential benchmark publication for advanced students, researchers, and practitioners in the fields of politics, media, and communication, sociology, and research methods.

Sexual Violence and Predatory Journalism in India Francis Philip Barclay, Kaifia Ancer Laskar, 2025-02-18 Sexual Violence and Predatory Journalism in India examines unethical editorial practices in the reporting of sexual crimes against women in India, introducing the term Predatory Journalism. This book conceptualises and analyses predatory practices that commodify sexual crimes against women, examining how it is facilitated and motivated by online spaces and social media channels and how it can often result in further harm to victims and their families. It argues for editorial intervention, more regulation, policy measures, and legal frameworks that will help build a sensitive and ethical media landscape and rebuild public trust. Key issues examined include sexism, sensationalism, invasion of privacy, victim-blaming, media trials, media manipulation of information, armchair reporting, explicit sexual imagery, the usage of unreliable sources, and a lack of responsibility and accountability. Providing a comprehensive analysis of the issue and offering a framework for ethical practice, Sexual Violence and Predatory Journalism in India will be essential reading for scholars and students of media and cultural studies, journalism, and sociology interested

The Search for Justice Kumari Jayawardena, Kishali Pinto-Jayawardena, 2016-11-21 The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the region a vast body of knowledge on this important yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over fifty research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to perpetuate impunity for perpetrators The essays in this volume examine history and contemporary politics to understand the root causes of sexual violence in Sri Lanka They look at the polarization created around ethnic and linguistic identities during the three decades of ethnic conflict but also scrutinize the routine violence of communities towards their own women in daily life The authors argue that in this transitional post war phase Sri Lankan women must not only be treated as victims but as agents of change The writers highlight a hitherto unaddressed aspect of sexual violence that of the structures that enable impunity on the part of perpetrators be they security personnel and paramilitary forces members of armed rebel groups gangs local politicians and police or ordinary citizens including close family members They demonstrate how impunity for perpetrators is both a failure of the formal justice process and a product of individual community and social conditions and indeed the choices that victims and families make
