Paulas 100 Day Diary Lee

Thomas Griffiths

Paulas 100 Day Diary Lee:

Growing Pains Wanda Gág, 1984 Wanda Gág rose from poverty in small town Minnesota to international fame in the 1920s as the author of the children's classic Millions of Cats. Her early diaries first published in 1940 are the touching often humorous record of her youth and her struggles to develop her talent.

Art for Animals J. Keri Cronin, 2018-04-09 Animal rights activists today regularly use visual imagery in their efforts to shape the public's understanding of what it means to be kind, cruel and inhumane toward animals. Art for Animals explores the early history of this form of advocacy through the images and the people who harnessed their power. Following in the footsteps of earlier formed organizations like the RSPCA and ASPCA, animal advocacy groups such as the Victoria Street Society for the Protection of Animals from Vivisection made significant use of visual art in literature and campaign materials. But enabled by new and improved technologies and techniques, they took the imagery much further than their predecessors did, turning toward vivid, pointed and at times graphic depictions of human-animal interactions. Keri Cronin explains why the activist community embraced this approach, details how the use of such tools played a critical role in educational and reform movements in the United States, Canada and England, and traces their impact in public and private spaces. Far from being peripheral illustrations of points articulated in written texts or argued in impassioned speeches, these photographs, prints, paintings, exhibitions, magic lantern slides and films were key components of animal advocacy at the time, both educating the general public and creating a sense of shared identity among the reformers. Uniquely focused on imagery from the early days of the animal rights movement and filled with striking visuals, Art for Animals sheds new light on the history and development of modern animal advocacy.

Paula's 100 Day Diary K. P. Lee, 2015-12-01 This diary is specially made for a child named Paula. It is designed to encourage children to have fun writing creatively through positive reinforcement. Every page offers unique words of encouragement and thought-provoking questions. For children who love to draw, there is a 'Draw a picture' area provided for each day. Children can have fun expressing themselves artistically.
