Resisting Postmodern Architecture Stylianos Giamarellos, 2022-01-10 Since its first appearance in 1981 critical regionalism has enjoyed a celebrated worldwide reception. The 1990s increased its pertinence as an architectural theory that defends the cultural identity of a place resisting the homogenising onslaught of globalisation. Today its main principles such as acknowledging the climate, history, materials, culture and topography of a specific place are integrated in architects' education across the globe. But at the same time the richer cross-cultural history of critical regionalism has been reduced to schematic juxtapositions of the global with the local. Retrieving both the globalising branches and the overlooked cross-cultural roots of critical regionalism, Resisting Postmodern Architecture resituates critical regionalism within the wider framework of debates around postmodern architecture, the diverse contexts from which it emerged and the cultural media complex that conditioned its reception. In so doing it explores the intersection of three areas of growing historical and theoretical interest: postmodernism, critical regionalism and globalisation. Based on more than 50 interviews and previously unpublished archival material from six countries, the book transgresses existing barriers to integrate sources in other languages into anglophone architectural scholarship. In so doing it shows how the periphery was not just a passive recipient but also an active generator of architectural theory and practice. Stylianos Giamarellos challenges long-held central notions of supposedly international discourses of the recent past and outlines critical regionalism as an unfinished project apposite for the 21st century on the fronts of architectural theory, history and historiography.

Designing in Dark Times Virginia Tassinari, Eduardo Staszowski, 2020-11-12 The architectural historian and critic Kenneth Frampton never recovered from the force of Hannah Arendt's teaching at The New School in New York. The philosopher Richard J. Bernstein considers her the most perceptive political theorist and observer of dark times, a concept which drawing from Brecht she made her own. Building on the revival of interest in Hannah Arendt and on the increasing turn in design towards the expanded field of the social, this unique book uses insights and quotations drawn from Arendt's major writings: The Human Condition, The Origins of Totalitarianism, Men in Dark Times to assemble a new kind of lexicon for politics, designing and acting today. Taking 56 terms from Action, Beginnings and Creativity, Mortality, Nativity and Play to Superfluity, Technology and Violence and inviting designers and scholars of design world-wide to contribute, Designing in Dark Times: An Arendtian Lexicon offers up an extraordinary range of short essays that use moments and quotations from Arendt's thought as the starting points for reflection on how these terms can be conceived for contemporary design and political praxis. Neither simply dictionary nor glossary, the lexicon brings together designing and political philosophy to begin to create a new language for acting and designing against dark times.

Race and Modern Architecture Irene Cheng, Charles L. Davis II, Mabel O. Wilson, 2020-05-26 Although race, a concept of human difference that establishes hierarchies of power and domination, has played a critical role in the development of modern architectural discourse and practice since the Enlightenment, its influence on the discipline remains largely underexplored This volume offers a welcome and long awaited intervention for the field by shining a spotlight on constructions of race and their impact on architecture and theory in Europe and North America and across various global contexts since the eighteenth century Challenging us to write race back into architectural history contributors confront how racial thinking has intimately shaped some of the key concepts of modern architecture and culture over time including freedom revolution character national and indigenous style progress hybridity climate representation and radicalism By analyzing how architecture has intersected with histories of slavery colonialism and inequality from eighteenth century neoclassical governmental buildings to present day housing projects for immigrants Race and Modern Architecture challenges complicates and revises the standard association of modern architecture with a universal project of emancipation and progress

Pious Labor Amanda Lanzillo,2024-01-23 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press s Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries working class people across northern India found themselves negotiating rapid industrial change emerging technologies and class hierarchies In response to these changes Indian Muslim artisans began publicly asserting the deep relation between their religion and their labor using the increasingly accessible popular press to redefine Islamic traditions from below Centering the stories and experiences of metalsmiths stonemasons tailors press workers and carpenters Pious Labor examines colonial era social and technological changes through the perspectives of the workers themselves As Amanda Lanzillo shows the colonial marginalization of these artisans is intimately linked with the continued exclusion of laboring voices today By drawing on previously unstudied Urdu language technical manuals and community histories Lanzillo highlights not only the materiality of artisanal production but also the cultural agency of artisanal producers filling in a major gap in South Asian history

The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement Farhan Karim,2018-05-11 Socially engaged architecture is a broad and emerging architectural genre that promises to redefine architecture from a market driven profession to a mix of social business altruism and activism that intends to eradicate poverty resolve social exclusion and construct an egalitarian global society The Routledge Companion to Architecture and Social Engagement offers a critical enquiry of socially engaged architecture s current context characterized by socio economic inequity climate change war increasing global poverty microfinance the evolving notion of professionalism the changing conception of public and finally the growing academic interest in re visioning the social role of architecture Organized around case studies from the United States Brazil Venezuela the United Kingdom South Africa Rwanda Burkina Faso Nigeria Nepal Pakistan Iran Thailand Germany Australia Taiwan and Japan the book documents the most important recent developments in the field By examining diverse working methods and philosophies of socially engaged architecture the handbook shows how socially engaged architecture is entangled in the global politics of poverty reconstruction of the public sphere changing role of the state charity and neoliberal urbanism The book presents debates around the issue of whether architecture actually empowers the participators and alleviates socio economic exclusion or if it instead indirectly sustains an exploitive capitalism Bringing together a range of theories and case studies this companion offers a platform to facilitate future lines of inquiry in education research and practice

The Palgrave Handbook of the History of Human Sciences David McCallum, 2022-08-27 The Palgrave Handbook of the History of Human Sciences offers a uniquely comprehensive and global overview of the evolution of ideas concepts and policies within the human sciences Drawn from histories of the social and psychological sciences anthropology the history and philosophy of science and the history of ideas this collection analyses the health and welfare of populations evidence of the changing nature of our local communities cities societies or global movements and studies the way our humanness or human nature undergoes shifts because of broader technological shifts or patterns of living This Handbook serves as an authoritative reference to a vast source of representative scholarly work in interdisciplinary fields a means of understanding patterns of social change and the conduct of institutions as well as the histories of these ways of knowing probe the contexts circumstances and conditions which underpin continuity and change in the way we count analyse and understand ourselves in our different social worlds It reflects a critical scholarly interest in both traditional and emerging concerns on the relations between the biological and social sciences and between these and changes and continuities in societies and conducts as 21st century research moves into new intellectual and geographic territories more diverse fields and global problematics

Architecture and the Public World Kenneth Frampton, 2024-01-25 This book brings together Kenneth Frampton s essays from the 1960s to today which epitomize his reflections on the historical theoretical entanglements of architecture with place the public realm cultural identity urban landscape and environment and the political question of the predicament of architecture in the new Millennium The essays explore Frampton s contention that architecture s imperative is to assume a significant responsibility for the edification and stewardship of the Arendtian public world One of the most theoretically sophisticated and politically committed architectural thinkers Frampton s work breaks emphatically with the limits and norms of much contemporary practice and restores a sense of richness and social consequence of architecture s unfinished project while offering abiding lessons not only for architecture but for social cultural and design criticism alike
