The Philosophical Foundations of Management Thought Jean-Etienne Joullié, Robert Spillane, 2020-10-06 The book's premise is that the theories taught in management schools are based on unacknowledged philosophical perspectives that are significant not so much for what they explain but for what they assume. Rarely made explicit, these perspectives cannot be reconciled with the result that the study of management has been dominated by contradictions and internecine intellectual warfare. However, the ability critically to analyze these diverse perspectives is essential to practicing and aspiring managers if they are to evaluate expert opinion. Moreover, since management is primarily an exercise in communication, managing is impossible in the darkness of an imprecise language in the absence of moral references or in the senseless outline of a world without intellectual foundations. Managing is a prime example of applied philosophy.

Handbook of Teaching Philosophy to Economists Giancarlo Ianulardo, John B. Davis, Ricardo F. Crespo, 2025-09-10 In recent years, there have been increasing calls for a revision of the economics curriculum to address the most pressing and challenging issues facing society. This erudite Handbook bridges the gap between a flourishing body of scholarship in the philosophy of economics literature and an economics education in need of a deeper rethinking as felt by both students and educators. It provides practical pedagogical insights on how to structure courses in the philosophy of economics and how to link them to students' economics backgrounds.

Rebirth of M. P. Follett's Dynamic Management Thought Izumi Mitsui, 2025-08-15 The purpose of this book is to reevaluate the dynamic management thought of M. P. Follett (1868-1933) and recreate it for the construction of a new society after the COVID 19 era Here the focus is especially on the main concept of her dynamic social process concept interweaving and showing its current applicability It should also be noted that the time Follett created this concept was when the 1918 pandemic Spanish flu struck Boston Based on her academic background in political science philosophy history psychology and related disciplines Follett had many years of practical experience as a social worker in Boston and advocated a social view based on the dynamic interaction of individuals It included rebuilding social relations social development as a continuous process and creating a community experience through the interweaving of individual experiences One of the important issues that COVID 19 poses is the breaking and restructuring of human relations in communities and societies The author believes that such an issue could be easily resolved by information and communications technology ICT networks While it is a powerful tool we are now aware that it also has the effect of isolating individuals and inciting conflicts The author applies Follett s ideas to approach such problems In this book her perspectives on the interweaving process of experience and its position are emphasized as important concepts for creating new communities for the post COVID 19 era Expressed symbolically they correspond to interweaving experiences in the internet society Military Design Thinking Aaron P.
