Mapping, Connectivity, and the Making of European Empires Luis Lobo-Guerrero, Laura Lo Presti, Filipe dos Reis, 2021-06-29 This volume seeks to collectively explore how maps can be used to understand the making of European empires how the epistemological practices embedded in them can be approached to understand European imperial space making and how maps can be seen as representations of imaginaries of connectivity Rehearsing mapping's past and its multifarious relations with European imperial orders is not merely an historical exercise to contribute to a global history of cartography What binds the several interventions is rather an awareness that looking at a particular moment of the past with composite methodologies and interdisciplinary gazes may harbour potential discoveries on the context embedded relations between mapping connectivity and European empire to which we are not yet attuned By exploring the imaginaries of the world in the mapping of Western modern empires the book also links to the burgeoning literature on the history of international relations and empire The emphasis on empires serves here as an important corrigendum for IR's state centrism and Eurocentrism and contributes to further erode the myth of Westphalia

Innovative Learning Geography in Europe Karl Donert, Rafael de Miguel González, 2014-03-25 Opportunities for developing innovative approaches in teaching and learning geography have been rapidly increasing in recent years This is in part because of the spread of new technologies that allow access to geographic information and geographic geo media resources These new tools offer broad access to information and open data sources They have revolutionised the way in which teachers of geography can work with pupils and students Education for Digital Earth is now possible As such the exclusive use of traditional approaches to the teaching of geography is no longer reasonable today The European Commission funded network initiative digital earth eu promotes innovation and best practices in the implementation of geo media as a digital learning environment for school learning and teaching This book supported by EUROGEO analyses the main challenges facing geographical education curriculum methodology teacher education and training and geospatial technologies and illustrates different examples of the use of geoinformation in geographical education in several European countries

The Scandinavian Early Modern World Jonas Monié Nordin, 2020-05-14 The Scandinavian Early Modern World explores the early modern colonialism globalization and modernity in Scandinavia along with its colonies and its role in the shaping of the modern world Scandinavians played an active role in early modern globalization and were present as traders as colonialists and as consumers in competition and collaboration with indigenous agents and other colonial actors in America Africa and India This story is rarely told The joint study of history historical landscape and material culture from a Scandinavian vantage point provides for a comprehensive and original interpretation of the birth of globalization and modernity New perspectives and data are presented deepening and challenging our knowledge of the long seventeenth century In depth analysis of case studies encompassing four continents and their material entanglement makes this book a unique contribution to historical archaeology The Scandinavian Early Modern World aims at students and scholars of anthropology archaeology and history alike taking interest in the global connections of the long seventeenth century and the role of Scandinavia in that process Information Communication Technology Law, Protection and Access Rights: Global Approaches and Issues Portela, Irene Maria, Cruz-Cunha, Maria Manuela, 2010-06-30 This book identifies key issues in the relationship between ICT and law ethics politics and social policy drawing attention to diverse global approaches to the challenges posed by ICT to access rights Provided by publisher European Cartographers and the Ottoman World, 1500-1750 Ian Manners, M. Pinar Emiralioğlu, 2007 This lavishly illustrated catalogue of the exhibit European Cartographers and the Ottoman World 1500 1750 explores how mapmakers sought to document a new geography of the Near East that reconciled classical ideas and theories with the information collected and brought back by travelers and voyagers The text is accompanied by images of illuminated manuscript charts and atlases the earliest printed maps of the Ottoman Empire and bird's eye views of cities that provided arm chair travelers with the experience of knowing distant places World Heritage, Place Making and Sustainable Tourism Kurt Luger, Matthias Ripp, 2020-12-10 The management of World Heritage Cities and sites is a challenging task Getting visitor flows and the enormous traffic under control and implementing urban development projects in ways that preserve the integrity and authenticity of cultural heritage requires a high level of expertise backed by the support of civil society and politics This book is the result of the 2018 Conference of the Organization of World Heritage Cities held by the Regional Secretariat for Northwest Europe and North America in Amsterdam with the theme Heritage Tourism Local Communities and Visitors Sharing Responsibilities The contributing expert authors from Africa the Americas Asia and Europe draw on a range of disciplines to offer wider perspectives stimulating dialogue among the spheres of heritage sustainable tourism and spatial planning An updated chapter offers perspectives on sustainable tourism also after the COVID 19 pandemic Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe Rodney Harrison, Nélia Dias, Kristian Kristiansen, 2023-10-24 Cultural and natural heritage are central to Europe and the European project They were bound up in the emergence of nation states in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries where they were used to justify differences over which border conflicts were fought Later the idea of a common European heritage provided a rationale for the development of the European Union Now the emergence of new populist nationalisms shows how the imagined past continues to play a role in cultural and social governance while a series of interlinked social and ecological crises are changing the ways that heritage operates with new discourses and ontologies emerging to reconfigure heritage for the circumstances of the present and the uncertainties of the future Taking the current role of heritage in Europe as its starting point Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe presents a number of case studies that explore key themes in this transformation Contributors draw on a range of disciplinary perspectives to consider variously the role of heritage and museums in the migration and climate emergencies approaches to urban heritage conservation and practices of curating cities digital and digitised heritage

the use of heritage as a therapeutic resource and critical approaches to heritage and its management Taken together the chapters explore the multiple ontologies through which cultural and natural heritage have and continue to intervene actively in redrawing the futures of Europe and the world Praise for Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe Filled with many fascinating and diverse chapters this book vividly demonstrates the dynamism and breadth of critical heritage study of in and entangled with Europe today Sharon Macdonald Alexander von Humboldt Professor of Social Anthropology and Director of the Centre for Anthropological Research on Museums and Heritage CARMAH in the Institute of European Ethnology at Humboldt University zu Berlin Far from being restrictive let alone chauvinistic the multiscalar European focus of this book confirms the breadth and relevance of current critical heritage studies With contributions addressing such topical issues as climate emergencies urban landscapes cultural industries new media and identity politics be they written by established scholars or by emerging researchers it is Europe with all its shared grounds and recurrent divergences that comes into sharper relief From this vantage point readers of this compelling book will be better positioned for reflecting on and eventually influencing and challenging our heritage futures Nathan Schlanger Professor of Archaeology cole nationale des chartes Paris This book addresses European heritage realities and futures through new voices paradigms and methods It is a collage of tensions practically a representation of Europe itself through which to comprehend contemporary intersections of time place things and meaning It contributes to new vistas in heritage studies the offer of design and imagination as methods reckonings with data and climate change as seemingly uncontrollable actors and the ongoing negotiation of criticality in the making of our responsibilities for the past in the present Christopher Whitehead Professor of Museology Newcastle University

Staging Authority Eva Giloi, Martin Kohlrausch, Heikki Lempa, Heidi Mehrkens, Philipp Nielsen, Kevin Rogan, 2022-10-24 Staging Authority Presentation and Power in Nineteenth Century Europe is a comprehensive handbook on how the presentation embodiment and performance of authority changed in the long nineteenth century It focuses on the diversification of authority what new forms and expressions of authority arose in that critical century how traditional authority figures responded and adapted to those changes and how the public increasingly participated in constructing and validating authority It pays particular attention to how spaces were transformed to offer new possibilities for the presentation of authority and how the mediatization of presence affected traditional authority The handbook's fourteen chapters draw on innovative methodologies in cultural history and the aligned fields of the history of emotions urban geography persona studies gender studies media studies and sound studies

This Is Not an Atlas orangotango, 2018-11-05 This Is Not an Atlas gathers more than 40 counter cartographies from all over the world This collection shows how maps are created and transformed as a part of political struggle for critical research or in art and education from indigenous territories in the Amazon to the anti eviction movement in San Francisco from defending commons in Mexico to mapping refugee camps with balloons in Lebanon from slums in Nairobi to squats in Berlin from supporting communities in the Philippines to reporting sexual harassment in Cairo This Is Not an Atlas seeks to inspire to document the underrepresented and to be a useful companion when becoming a counter cartographer yourself

Landscape, Culture, and Belonging Neeladri Bhattacharya, Joy L. K. Pachuau, 2019-05-23 This collection of essays is an important contribution to the new literature on frontier studies and the historiography of Northeast India Moving away from an exclusive dependence on colonial ethnographies the authors build their arguments on a varied range of sources from buranjis to revenue records survey maps to explorers diaries and missionary papers to police files They question the givens of the categories through which the region is usually described and contest the stereotypes by which the people of the region are primitivized They explore the historical processes whereby the region was surveyed mapped understood represented politically governed economically refigured and historically constituted during the colonial period Though focused on the experience of Northeast India the volume also raises substantive questions about the idea of the frontier and the border the primitive and the modern and the tribal and the settled the local and the trans local Library World Records, 3d ed.
