The Individual's Guide to Grants Judith B. Margolin, 2012-12-06 This book is a work of conscience It is the product of a long standing feeling of obligation on my part to write something useful for a special group of people to which you probably belong individuals who seek grants In my years as Director of the New York library of The Foundation Center each and every day I encountered numbers of individuals looking for grant money Although I tried to be as supportive as possible in the face of the particular problems shared by this group of library users my own reaction was one of relative helplessness Simply stated most of the fund raising guides printed directories and computer files purportedly created to serve the fund raising public are of little or no use to individuals who seek funding on their own These resources are directed The Foundation Center is the independent nonprofit organization established by foundations to provide information for the grant seeking public vii viii I PREFACE toward the nonprofit tax exempt agency which is the most common recipient of foundation corporate and government largess They are not designed to respond to the special requirements of the individual grant seeker In the applicant eligibility index the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance defines individuals as homeowners students farmers artists scientists consumers small business persons minors refugees aliens veterans senior citizens low income persons health and educational professionals builders contractors developers handicapped persons the physically afflicted In short practically everyone qualifies T.P.'s Weekly Thomas Power O'Connor, Holbrook Jackson, 1906 The Scholarship of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education: An Evidence-Based Perspective Raymond P. Perry, John C. Smart, 2007-06-04 Pivotal to the transformation of higher education in the 21st Century is the nature of pedagogy and its role in advancing the aims of various stakeholders This book brings together pre eminent scholars from Australia Canada Europe the Middle East and the USA to critically assess teaching and learning issues that cut across most disciplines In addressing long standing and newly emerging issues the researchers examine the scientific evidence on what constitutes effective teaching in college classrooms on the psychometric integrity of measures of teaching effectiveness and on the use of such measures for tenure promotion and salary decisions Systematically explored throughout the book is the avowed linkage between classroom teaching and motivation learning and performance outcomes in students In so doing the book deals with the nexus between knowledge production by researchers and knowledge utility for end users made up of classroom instructors department heads deans directors and policymakers The book will appeal to researchers interested in teaching and learning faculty members developing evidence based pedagogical practices academic administrators and policymakers responsible for instituting teaching and learning protocols and faculty development officers promoting the effective teaching practices Transportation... Weekly Government Abstracts, 1991 This Week, 1988 Transforming Scholarship Michele Tracy Berger, Cheryl Radeloff, 2014-08-13 Transforming Scholarship is a user friendly work of practical guidance and inspiration for supporting a student's interest in a Women's Studies degree Berger and Radeloff use empirical evidence to help students with the major barriers they face when exploring Women's Studies the negative response a student often faces when announcing to the world that he or she is interested in Women's Studies and the perceived lack of employment and career options that supposedly comes with graduating with a Women's Studies degree This book will support students to think critically about what they know how to demonstrate what they know and how to prepare for life both personally and professionally after the degree Transforming Scholarship is a practical guide for students interested in women's and gender studies that targets advanced undergraduates who have a firm connection to the discipline This book is ideal for women's and gender capstone courses and for those who have finished their degree and need a resource to assist in conceptualizing the answers to the question What's next This second edition of Transforming Scholarship focuses on areas that undergraduates might want integrate into their women's and gender studies education study abroad civic engagement projects internships independent studies and honors theses It includes exercises to help flesh out talents passions and skills and how to link them to employment information about the diversity of employment opportunities and further professional training available and a plan to help prepare for graduation It also delves into how to live a feminist life after graduation including activism after college building and sustaining feminist communities and feminist parenting The authors have also added new Point of View boxes throughout the book where scholars focus on contemporary issues and deepen a student's understanding of the organizations and individuals fighting to end sexist oppression

Elsie's scholarship, and why she surrendered it Emma Leslie, 1898 Anxious Days and Tearful Nights Martha Hanna, 2020-10-22 What was it like to be a soldier's wife in Canada during the First World War More than 80 000 Canadian women were married to men who left home to fight in the war and its effects on their lives were transformative and often traumatic Yet the everyday struggles of Canadian war wives lived far from the battlefields of France have remained in the shadows of historical memory Anxious Days and Tearful Nights highlights how Canadian women's experiences of wartime marital separation resembled and differed from those of their European counterparts Drawing on the letters of married couples separated by wartime service and the military service records of hundreds of Canadian soldiers Martha Hanna reveals how couples used correspondence to maintain the routine and the affection of domestic life She explores how women managed households and budgets how those with children coped with the challenges of what we today would call single parenthood and when and why some war wives chose to relocate to Britain to be nearer to their husbands More than anything else the life of a war wife especially a war wife separated from her husband for years on end was marked and marred by unrelieved psychological stress Through this close personal lens Hanna reveals a broader picture of how war's effects persist across time and space
