Native Men Remade Gender And Nation In Contemporary Hawaii:

Native Men Remade Ty P. Kāwika Tengan, 2008-10-20 An ethnographic study of the recuperation and construction of Hawaiian indigenous masculinity through participation in the rituals of the Hale Mua Men's House group in Maui

Sources and Methods in Indigenous Studies Chris Andersen, Jean M. O'Brien, 2016-12-19 Sources and Methods in Indigenous Studies is a synthesis of changes and innovations in methodologies in Indigenous Studies focusing on sources over a broad chronological and geographical range Written by a group of highly respected Indigenous Studies scholars from across an array of disciplines this collection offers insight into the methodological approaches contributors take to research and how these methods have developed in recent years The book has a two part structure that looks firstly at the theoretical and disciplinary movement of Indigenous Studies within history literature anthropology and the social sciences Chapters in this section reveal that while engaging with other disciplines Indigenous Studies has forged its own intellectual path by borrowing and innovating from other fields In part two the book examines the many different areas with which sources for indigenous history have been engaged including the importance of family gender feminism and sexuality as well as various elements of expressive culture such as material culture literature and museums Together the chapters offer readers an overview of the dynamic state of the field in Indigenous Studies This book shines a spotlight on the ways in which scholarship is transforming Indigenous Studies in methodologically innovative and exciting ways and will be essential reading for students and scholars in the field

Crafting an Indigenous Nation Jenny Tone-Pah-Hote, 2019-01-10 In this in depth interdisciplinary study Jenny Tone Pah Hote reveals how Kiowa people drew on the tribe's rich history of expressive culture to assert its identity at a time of profound challenge Examining traditional forms such as beadwork metalwork painting and dance Tone Pah Hote argues that their creation and exchange were as significant to the expression of Indigenous identity and sovereignty as formal political engagement and policymaking These cultural forms she argues were sites of contestation as well as affirmation as Kiowa people used them to confront external pressures express national identity and wrestle with changing gender roles and representations Combatting a tendency to view Indigenous cultural production primarily in terms of resistance to settler colonialism Tone Pah Hote expands existing work on Kiowa culture by focusing on acts of creation and material objects that mattered as much for the nation's internal and familial relationships as for relations with those outside the tribe In the end she finds that during a time of political struggle and cultural dislocation at the turn of the twentieth century the community's performative and expressive acts had much to do with the persistence survival and adaptation of the Kiowa nation

Hawai'i Is My Haven Nitasha Tamar Sharma, 2021-08-02 Nitasha Tamar Sharma maps the context and contours of Black life in Hawai'i showing how despite the presence of anti Black racism the state's Black residents consider it to be their haven from racism
