Zimmerman, David J. Zimmerman, 1993 Why is the sky blue What killed off the dinosaurs How big is the universe Can computers think Why do we grow old To the open eyed and inquisitive nature is a fascinating curiosity shop with an endless array of wonders and mysteries on display Yet most of us know very little about the marvelous aspects of science that surround us every day of our lives Why Nothing Can Travel Faster than Light is a lively collection of engrossing and highly readable essays that shed light on some of the most provocative questions about science and technology Barry and David Zimmerman brothers who teach science and write widely on science subjects range effortlessly across the broad spectrum that is nature from how the universe began to its probable fate from cryonics to ozone depletion from natural history to quantum physics Their essays will enlighten and entertain everyone who enjoys the wonder of exploring nature s marvelous curiosity shop Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1893 Nature's Guardians Harry Edward Neal, 1956 While based largely on the opportunities in the U S Fish and Wildlife Service the U S Forest Service and the Soil Conservation Service it is full of allusions to similar jobs and opportunities in state organizations Foreword Crop Protection Agents from Nature Leonard G. Wagner, 1978 The time seems ripe for a critical compendium of that segment of the biological universe we call viruses Virology as a science having passed only recently through its descriptive phase of naming and num bering has probably reached that stage at which relatively few new truly new viruses will be discovered Triggered by the intellectual probes and techniques of molecular biology genetics biochemical cytology and high resolution microscopy and spectroscopy the field has experienced a genuine information explosion Few serious attempts have been made to chronicle these events This comprehensive series which will comprise some 6000 pages in a total of about 18 volumes represents a commitment by a large group of active investigators to analyze digest and expostulate on the great mass of data relating to viruses much of which is now amorphous and disjointed and scattered throughout a wide literature In this way we hope to place the entire field in perspective and to develop an invaluable reference and sourcebook for researchers and students at all levels This series is designed as a continuum that can be entered anywhere but which also provides a logical progression of developing facts and integrated concepts
