Teacher Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Rosarii Griffin, 2012-05-14 In the drive to achieve universal primary education as one of the Millennium Development Goals there is an increasing recognition of the urgency of focusing on teacher education to both meet the demand for more than one million qualified teachers required to achieve this goal within sub Saharan Africa as well as to combat the sometimes poor quality educational experience reported in the school Currently approximately only one third of teachers are qualified to teach This dearth in qualified teachers also means that secondary and tertiary education need to be improved upon to provide an educated cohort of graduates This in turn will ensure that the quality of teacher trained and retained within the profession is of a sufficiently high standard to ensure sustainable progress This volume focuses on the various aspects of teacher education which need to be addressed in order for the wider Millennium Goals to be achieved but more importantly so that each African child living within sub Saharan Africa will have the right to a quality education ensuring they too experience their right and entitlement as children to reach their full potential often taken for granted in Western countries giving African children the necessary tools to build a better future for themselves Of particular interest to the education researcher and policy maker this volume's contributors look at the various issues and challenges around the teacher profession particularly in relation to resources and practices within sub Saharan Africa The contributors examine the issue of building research capacity for educational research within teacher education Colleges and explore the concept of education for sustainable development with the view to improving the development of quality teacher education within the global South In this volume research reports are presented highlighting the various challenges within the structure and provision of teacher education within certain national contexts including assessment and curricula issues which need to be addressed This volume goes from the global to the local and examines teacher educator teaching learning and reflective practice issues within different contexts as well as exploring alternative pre service experiences for western teachers who wish to work within the sub Saharan context as well as some teacher educator exchange programmes between the South and North Case countries explored include Lesotho South Africa Mozambique Uganda Kenya Tanzania and Madagascar to mention but a few Of particular value to the education researcher and policy maker this book provides a timely resource focusing on an area of neglect highlighting the central role of the teacher and teacher education towards sustainable development within the sub Saharan African context The Orderly Entrepreneur Catherine A. Honeyman, 2016-09-14 The first generation of children born after Rwanda's 1994 genocide is just now reaching maturity setting aside their school uniforms to take up adult roles in Rwandan society and the economy At the same time Rwanda's post war government has begun to shrug off international aid as it pursues an increasingly independent path of business friendly yet strongly state regulated social and economic development The Orderly Entrepreneur tells the story of a new Rwanda now at the vanguard among developing countries emulating the policies of Singapore Korea and China and devoutly committed to entrepreneurship as a beacon for 21st century economic growth Drawing on ethnographic research with nearly 500 participants The Orderly Entrepreneur investigates the impact and reception of the Rwandan government's multiyear entrepreneurship curriculum first implemented in 2007 as required learning in all secondary schools As Honeyman shows entrepreneurship is more than a benign buzzword or hopeful panacea for economic development but a complex ideal with unique meanings across Rwandan society She reveals how curriculum developers teachers and students all brought their own interpretations and influence to the new entrepreneurship curriculum exposing how even a carefully engineered project of social transformation can be full of indeterminacies and surprising twists every step of the way

Decolonizing Philosophies of Education Ali A. Abdi, 2012-01-01 Philosophy of education basically deals with learning issues that attempt to explain or answer what we describe as the major questions of its domains i.e. what education is needed why such education and how would societies undertake and achieve such learning possibilities In different temporal and spatial intersections of people's lives the design as well as the outcome of such learning program were almost entirely indigenously produced but later they became perforce responsive to externally imposed demands where as far as the history and the actualities of colonized populations were concerned a cluster of de philosophizing and de epistemologizing educational systems were imposed upon them Such realities of colonial education were not conducive to inclusive social well being hence the need to ascertain and analyze new possibilities of decolonizing philosophies of education which this edited volume selectively aims to achieve The book should serve as a necessary entry point for a possible re routing of contemporary learning systems that are mostly of de culturing and de historicizing genre With that in mind the recommendations contained in the 12 chapters should herald the potential of decolonizing philosophies of education as liberating learning and livelihood praxes This collection of critical and scholarly analyses provides an insightful and timely resource for decolonizing philosophies of education that continue to shape discourses policies curricula and practices in all levels of educational and social institutions It also usefully challenges versions of postcolonial studies that fail to recognize and demystify the continuity of colonial hegemony in contemporary societal formations in both the global north and south Toh Swee Hin Distinguished Professor University for Peace Costa Rica Laureate UNESCO Prize for Peace Education 2000 Decolonizing philosophies of education edited by Ali A. Abdi is a collection of twelve essays by noted scholars in the field who provide strong readings of postcolonialism in education with an emphasis on decolonizing epistemologies It provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the critical history of colonization postcolonial studies and the significance of education to the colonial project This is an important book that provides a global perspective on the existential and epistemological escape from the colonial condition Michael A. Peters Professor Educational Policy Studies University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign

Lesotho Social Sciences Review, 2010-12 Mathematics Education in East Africa Anjum Halai, Geoff Tennant, 2016-03-08 This Open Access book is a valuable resource for policymakers and practitioners as it brings insights mainly from developing countries where relatively less research activity takes place It is also a valuable resource for courses in mathematics education in the teacher education colleges and departments of education in the sub Saharan Africa region In the increasingly global and technological world mathematics is seen as a significant gatekeeper of opportunities for social and economic advancement and mobility Hence countries and development agencies in the broader sub Saharan Africa region are looking towards increasing access to relevant and high quality secondary education as a lever towards economic development Policy makers and other key decision makers in education look towards improvement in mathematics teaching and learning as a key focus in education reform In the East Africa region also a number of initiatives have been taken at the national level in the respective countries to improve the quality of mathematics education This book provides an in depth comparative analysis of the developments and issues in mathematics education in Kenya Tanzania Rwanda and Uganda and advances our understanding of the state of secondary mathematics education in East Africa

A Framework for Heritage, Multiculturalism and Citizenship Education Amina Osman, Brenda Leibowitz, 2003 Following the 14th Conference of Commonwealth Education Ministers held in Halifax Canada in November 2000 the Commonwealth Secretariat organised a seminar with the theme A Commonwealth Framework for Heritage Multiculturalism and Citizenship

Education in Johannesburg South Africa in April 2002 This publication was compiled from the papers and proceedings of the seminar It is a result of collaborative work undertaken by educationalists curriculum developers and leading experts to develop a framework for an innovative approach to citizenship education to strengthen a culture of fairness equity tolerance and respect This ground breaking approach involves the key elements of heritage multiculturalism and citizenship The framework easily adapted to individual countries serves as a basis for organising curriculum and for teaching and learning resources

Handbook on the History of Mathematics Education Alexander Karp,Gert Schubring,2014-01-25 This is the first comprehensive International Handbook on the History of Mathematics Education covering a wide spectrum of epochs and civilizations countries and cultures Until now much of the research into the rich and varied history of mathematics education has remained inaccessible to the vast majority of scholars not least because it has been written in the language and for readers of an individual country And yet a historical overview however brief has become an indispensable element of nearly every dissertation and scholarly article This handbook provides for the first time a comprehensive and systematic aid for researchers around the world in finding the information they need about historical developments in mathematics education not only in their own countries but globally as well Although written primarily for mathematics educators this handbook will also be of interest to researchers of the history of education in general as well as specialists in cultural and even social history

National Bibliography of Uganda ,2011 Teaching Chemistry Around the World Björn Risch,2010 As teachers we often tend to expect other countries to teach chemistry in much the same way as we do but educational systems differ widely At Bielefeld University we started a project to analyse the approach to chemical education in different countries from all over the world Teaching Chemistry around the World 25 countries have participated in the project The resulting country studies are presented in this book This book may be seen as a contribution to make the structure of chemistry teaching in numerous countries more transparent and to facilitate communication between these countries Especially in the case of the school subject chemistry which is very unpopular on the one hand and occupies an exceptional position on the other hand due to its relevance to jobs and everyday life and most notably due to its importance for innovation capacity and problem solving we have to learn from each others educational systems

1001 Ways of Seeing Nobumasa Kiyonaga,Bernadette Van Haute,Ernst Wagner,2024 How do we see art works How do we see artefacts How do we see our surroundings How do we see the world This book opens up a worldwide dialogue between ten experts from Japan to Brazil from South Africa to Germany It provides a fascinating insight into the different cultures of seeing and learning to see It also offers a deeper understanding of the differences that divide us and the similarities that connect us This book marks an important step towards transcultural art education

Developing Sample Instructional Materials for a New Syllabus Christine R. M. Kiganda,1980 The Palgrave Handbook of Language Policies in Africa Esther Mukewa Lisanza,Leonard Muaka,2024-07-08 This handbook explores language policies and their impacts in Africa examining the different language policies in each country from pre colonial to post colonial times Most African countries are multilingual apart from a handful which are said to be quasi monolingual The authors in this handbook investigate language policy in education media legal courts government documents and other public domains and show how these policies shape learning and delivery of services to the citizens The volume also pays special attention to the roles assigned to minority languages in Africa most of which are endangered The contributions also investigate how these language policies are influenced by the history of colonialism and language attitudes emanating from colonial rule This handbook will be of interest to a diverse audience of readers including those interested in African languages language planning and policy and African history and education Information and Communication Technologies for Development in Africa Ramata Molo Thioune, 2003
