Real Women Run Sandra Faulkner,2018-01-17 Real Women Run is an innovative feminist ethnography that consists of a series of linked essays and presentations about women who run at the intersections of queer feminist and running identities Faulkner uses feminist grounded theory poetic inquiry and qualitative content analysis to examine women s embodied stories of running how they run how running fits into the context of their lives and relationships how they enact or challenge cultural scripts of women s activities and normative running bodies and what running means for their lives and identities During a two and a half year ethnography with women who run Faulkner engaged in an intersectional qualitative content analysis of websites and blogs targeted to women runners a grounded theory poetic analysis of 41 interviews with women who run and participant observation at road races Real Women Run speaks to the call for a more physical feminism This ethnography sees women s physical and mental strength developed through running as a way to embrace the contradictions between a deconstructed focus on the mind body split and the focus on individuals actual material bodies and their everyday interactions with their bodies and through their bodies with the world around them Comparing

Strategies of (De)Politicisation in Europe Jim Buller,Pınar E. Dönmez,Adam Standring,Matthew Wood,2018-07-03 This book investigates the extent to which depoliticisation strategies used to disguise the political character of decision making have become the established mode of governance within societies Increasingly commentators suggest that the dominance of depoliticisation is leading to a crisis of representative democracy or even the end of politics but is this really true This book examines the circumstances under which depoliticisation techniques can be challenged whether such resistance is successful and how we might understand this process It addresses these questions by adopting a novel comparative and interdisciplinary perspective Scholars from a range of European countries scrutinise the contingent nature of depoliticisation through a collection of case studies including economic policy transport the environment housing urban politics and government corruption The book will be appeal to academics and students across the fields of politics sociology urban geography philosophy and public policy The Corset and Underwear Review ,1945 The Journal of Physical Chemistry

Making Connections Margaret Walsh,2017-05-15 This book argues that legal persuasion results from making and breaking mental connections To support this argument it follows a cognitive science roadmap while the authors road test the directions through rhetorical analysis By taking a rhetorical approach to persuasion the authors are able to integrate research from cognitive science with classical and contemporary rhetorical theory and then to apply both to the taking apart and the putting together of effective legal arguments The combination of rhetorical analysis and cognitive science yields a new way of seeing and understanding legal persuasion one that promises theoretical and practical gains The work has three main functions First it brings together the leading models of persuasion from cognitive science and rhetorical theory blurring boundaries and leverage connections between the often separate spheres of science and rhetoric Second it illustrates this persuasive synthesis by working through concrete examples of persuasion from real life legal contexts In this way the book demonstrates the advantages of a deeper and more nuanced understanding of persuasion Third the volume assesses and explains why how and when certain persuasive methods and techniques are more effective than others The book is designed to appeal to scholars in law rhetoric persuasion science and psychology to students learning the practice of law and to judges and practicing lawyers who engage in persuasion
