Handbook of International Security and Development Paul Jackson, 2015-02-27 Providing a comprehensive introduction to the literature and approaches used in the field this illustrious Handbook explores and interrogates the link between security and development at a global level whilst offering a broad survey of current thinkin

The European Union's Brand of Peacebuilding Birgit Poopuu, 2019-08-02 Conceptually and empirically this is the most thoughtful analysis of the role of EU s peace missions I have read so far It starts with the action for the sake of action logic of CSDP development and offers a new interpretation of what CSDP could be if just peace was part of its political agenda A rare gem in European studies Xymena Kurowska Associate Professor of International Relations at Central European University Hungary This impressive research monograph provides a critical account of EUs peace missions by asking what these missions offer how peace is built and whom these missions serve To address these important questions Birgit Poopuu develops and employs an original and sophisticated discursive framework of telling and acting to conduct an in depth investigation of EU peace missions Artemis in the DRC EUFOR Althea in Bosnia Herzegovina and EULEX in Kosovo This book s ground breaking exploration advances the study of the EU as a peacebuilder Annika Bj rkdahl Professor of Political Science Lund University Sweden and Editor in Chief of Cooperation and Conflict This book critically explores the European Union s brand of peacebuilding in the form of its Common Security and Defence Policy CSDP A contextually close reading of EU missions using the fluid categories of telling and acting stressing the dialogical ways of being and taking heed of the concept of just peace as a particular guide to building peace allows the book to tap into the specific meanings the EU has of peace the ways in which it imagines its relationships with its varied partners and perhaps most controversially the way that being becoming a global actor has been front and center of the CSDP The analysis focuses on three core missions in the Democratic Republic of the Congo Bosnia Herzegovina and Kosovo One of the recurring themes that emerges from the empirical chapters is the significance attached to acting and that acting per se constitutes success of a mission without much thought given to its substance or the outcome of the EU's engagement The imaginative force of this book rests on developing a set of context sensitive analytical tools encapsulated in the dialogical model of identity formation and the dynamic approach to analysing identity through telling and acting

The Politics of International Intervention Mandy Turner, Florian P. Kühn, 2015-09-16 This book critically explores the practices of peacebuilding and the politics of the communities experiencing intervention The contributions to this volume have a dual focus First they analyse the practices of western intervention and peacebuilding and the prejudices and politics that drive them Second they explore how communities experience and deal with this intervention as well as an understanding of how their political and economic priorities can often diverge markedly from those of the intervener This is achieved through theoretical and thematic chapters and an extensive number of in depth empirical case studies Utilising a variety of conceptual frameworks and disciplines the book seeks to understand why something so normatively desirable the pursuit of and building of peace has turned out so badly From Cambodia to Afghanistan Iraq to Mali interventions in the pursuit of peace have not achieved the results desired by the interveners But rather they have created further instability and violence The contributors to this book explore why This book will be of much interest to students academics and practitioners of peacebuilding peacekeeping international intervention statebuilding security studies and IR in general

Visions of Peace of Professional Peace Workers Gijsbert M. van Iterson Scholten, 2019-10-11 This book explores the meaning of peace according to some of the people who make it Based on some 200 interviews it empirically studies the visions of peace that professional peaceworkers from the Netherlands Lebanon and Mindanao Philippines are working on As such it seeks to add a strong empirical element to the debate on liberal peacebuilding The main argument of the book is that amongst practitioners there is no liberal peace consensus at all Rather peace professionals work on a distinct set of peaces that differ along four dimensions In five case study chapters the operational visions of peace held by Dutch military officers diplomats and civil society peace workers as well as civil society peace workers from Lebanon and the Philippines are explored and compared to each other Differences are observed along both geographical and professional lines but also within each group

International Law and Post-Conflict Reconstruction Policy Matthew Saul, James A. Sweeney, 2015-05-15 The trend for international engagement in post conflict reconstruction has produced a host of best practice postulates on topics such as local involvement in decision making accountability for past atrocities sensitivity to context and the construction of democratic institutions of governance International law has potential relevance for many of these themes yet the question of how the implementation of best practice policy recommendations might be affected by international law remains under examined This book offers a fuller understanding of the role of international law in the practice of post conflict reconstruction It explores how international legal issues that arise in the post conflict period relate to a number of strands of the policy debate including government creation constitution making gender policy provision of security justice for past atrocities rule of law development economic recovery returning displaced persons and responsibilities of international actors The chapters of the book work to reveal the extent to which international law figures in the policy of internationally enabled post conflict reconstruction across a range of sectors They also highlight the scope for international law to be harnessed in a more effective manner from the perspective of the transition to peace and stability The book lays out a basis for future policy making on post conflict reconstruction one that is informed about the international legal parameters and more aware of how international law can be utilized to promote key objectives

The Crisis of Belonging and Ethnographies of Peacebuilding in Kaduna State, Nigeria Benjamin Maiangwa, 2021-01-14 This book explores the contested notions of territory and belonging in Nigeria most especially among the Fulani and other ethnic groups in Kaduna The book argues that these controversies center around Indigenous nomadic and autochthonous claims of belonging The author identifies these differing notions of belonging as a major condition of violent conflicts in Kaduna and across various postcolonial societies The author's analysis demonstrates how dynamic ideological impetuses for these conflicts underscore broader issues of citizenship rights nationhood and local peacebuilding in Nigeria

Children, Youth, and Participatory Arts for Peacebuilding Ananda Breed, Helena-Ulrike Marambio, Kirrily Pells, Rajib Timalisina, 2024-06-14 This book demonstrates how participatory arts based approaches can help children and youth contribute to peacebuilding within post conflict contexts and to their communities Cultural forms of storytelling through visual arts drama music and dance can help to enhance post conflict community well being social cohesion and conflict prevention However in the planning and implementation of these arts based projects children and youth are often marginalised in decision making processes Drawing on cases from Kyrgyzstan Rwanda Indonesia and Nepal this book demonstrates the benefits of participatory action research with children and youth to inform education curricula and policies for sustaining peace Showing how artforms can be adapted to meet the needs of children and youth the book emphasises the need to scale up arts based peacebuilding initiatives and leverage for greater policy enactment from the bottom up It is also an excellent example of South South learning advocating for a local approach to engage with arts based methodologies and peacebuilding This book will be of interest to researchers across the applied arts sociology anthropology political science peacebuilding and international development Practitioners and policymakers would also benefit from the book's recommendations for the implementation of successful arts based research projects and interventions Routledge Handbook of African Politics Nic Cheeseman, 2017-07-05 Providing a comprehensive and cutting edge examination of this important continent Routledge Handbook of African Politics surveys the key debates and controversies dealing with each of the major issues to be found in Africa's politics today Structured into 6 broad areas the handbook features over 30 contributions focused around The State Identity Conflict Democracy and Electoral Politics Political Economy Development International Relations Each chapter deals with a specific topic providing an overview of the main arguments and theories and explaining the empirical evidence that they are based on drawing on high profile cases such as the Democratic Republic of Congo Kenya Nigeria Somalia South Africa Rwanda and Zimbabwe The Handbook also contains new contributions on a wide range of topical issues including terrorism the growing influence of China civil war and transitional justice making it required reading for non specialists and experts alike Featuring both established scholars and emerging researchers this is a vital resource for all students of African Studies democratization conflict resolution and Third World politics Dancing through the dissonance Lesley Pruitt, Erica Rose Jeffrey, 2020-05-01 Conflicts are increasingly recognised as situated in local contexts with culturally specific elements playing important roles At the same time conflicts reflect and contribute to global dynamics Seeking peace within this complexity requires curious creative and critical approaches that can account for politics But how can peacebuilders account for unique local settings while also recognising multiple and diverse perspectives within and between them Reflecting on this question Dancing through the dissonance explores the relationship between peacebuilding and dance in pluralist societies examining the practice of dance focused peacebuilding programmes in Colombia the Philippines and the United States Incorporating participant voices critical political analysis and reflections on dance practice the authors reveal the implications and nuances of arts based peace initiatives This book offers a unique insight into the application practice and analysis of dance focused peacebuilding programmes building on a critical understanding of the politics of integrating dance into peacebuilding and the ways in which these programmes fit into global debates around peace and conflict As the global community continues to seek inclusive pathways to peace that improve upon supplement or replace existing dominant approaches this book provides a valuable in depth analysis and recommendations for arts based peacebuilding approaches Peacebuilding Paradigms Henry F. Carey, 2020-12-17 Peacebuilding is explained by combining interpretive frameworks paradigms that have evolved from the subfields of international relations and comparative politics Peacebuilding Legacy Sukanya Podder, 2022 Peacebuilding Legacies addresses an important gap relating to the long term effects of peacebuilding programmes involving children and young people Podder unpacks the concept of peacebuilding legacy through the lens of time transformation and intergenerational peace Deferring Peace in International Statebuilding Pol Bargués-Pedreny, 2018-05-15 This book explores the last 25 years of international peacebuilding and recasts them as a growing crisis of confidence in universal ideas of peacebuilding and self government

Since current peacebuilding interventions are abandoning domineering top down and linear methodologies and experimenting with context sensitive self reflexive and locally driven strategies the book makes two suggestions The first is that international policymakers are embracing some of the critiques of liberal peace For more than a decade scholarly critiques have pointed out the need to focus on everyday dynamics and local initiatives and resistances to liberal peace in order to enable hybrid and long term practice based strategies of peacebuilding Now the distance between the policy discourse and critical frameworks has narrowed The second suggestion is that in stepping away from liberal peace a transvaluation of peacebuilding values is occurring Critiques are beginning to accept and valorise that international interventions will continuously fail to produce sensitive results The earlier frustrations with unexpected setbacks errors or contingencies are ebbing away Instead critiques normalise the failure to promote stability and peace This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding international intervention conflict resolution international organisations and security studies in general

Routledge Companion to Peace and Conflict Studies Sean Byrne, Thomas Matyók, Imani Michelle Scott, Jessica Senehi, 2019-07-24 This Companion examines contemporary challenges in Peace and Conflict Studies PACS and offers practical solutions to these problems Bringing together chapters from new and established global scholars the volume explores and critiques the foundations of Peace and Conflict Studies in an effort to advance the discipline in light of contemporary local and global actors The book examines the following eight specific components of Peace and Conflict Studies Peace and conflict studies praxis Structure agency tension as it relates to social justice nonviolence and relationship building Gender masculinity and sexuality The role of partnerships and allies in racial ethnic and religious peacebuilding Culture and identity Critical and emancipatory peacebuilding International conflict transformation and peacebuilding Global responses to conflict It argues that new critical and emancipatory peacebuilding and conflict transformation strategies are needed to address the complex cultural economic political and social conflicts of the 21st century This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peace studies conflict resolution transitional justice reconciliation studies social justice studies and international relations

Transitional Justice in Peacebuilding Djeyhoun Ostowar, 2020-11-22 This book explores the role of actors in determining transitional justice in peacebuilding contexts In recent decades transitional justice mechanisms and processes have been introduced to a variety of settings becoming widely regarded as essential elements in the peacebuilding toolbox While it has increasingly been suggested that transitional justice is imposed by neo imperial actors with little regard for the needs and cultures of local populations evidence suggests that dismissing these policies as neo imperial or neo liberal impositions would result in grossly overlooking their dynamics which involve a whole range of relevant actors operating at multiple levels This book interrogates this theme through empirical analysis of three sites of peacebuilding that have seen extensive international involvement Kosovo East Timor and Afghanistan It proposes a novel framework for analysing and approaching transitional justice in peacebuilding that disaggregates three broad sets of actors operating at different levels in relevant processes external actors international and regional levels transitional justice promoters local national international and transnational levels and transitional regimes national and local levels The book argues that transitional justice in peacebuilding must be conceived of as actor contingent and malleable due to the significance of agency and inter actions of key categories of actors throughout peacebuilding transition This book will be of interest to students and practitioners of transitional justice peacebuilding law and International Relations Local Interests and American Foreign Policy Karl Sandstrom, 2013-07-18 This book provides an alternative perspective on how social interest groups form and interact to affect interventions It combines historic sociological and international relations perspectives in a framework through which to view the relevant socio political dynamics in target societies At a time when American foreign policy seeks to redefine its objectives and its methods of intervention the monolithic ideological assumptions of the state as the panacea to all social ailments both as a format and a vehicle of norm delivery seemingly dooms American foreign policy and European allies to the repetition of old mistakes In environments where interests and priorities are shaped on a highly localised basis interventionist agendas often lack relevant meaning The book focuses in particular on the contrast between the assumptions inherent in Western interventionist strategies and social interest formation in Afghanistan Somaliland and Somalia Based on extensive fieldwork the book draws on available literature and on interviews with local population or international aid and development workers The conclusion is that in the cases examined the agency of local interest groups largely controls the outcome of external strategies This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of US Foreign Policy International Relations and Security Studies
