A Global Challenge explores the challenges and barriers preventing satisfactory pain management for patients who urgently need it. This book provides you with true accounts of palliative care programs from around the world to help you meet the needs of disadvantaged clients. This essential volume includes a Foreword written by a world leader in palliative care, Jan Stjernsward, Former Chief of the Cancer and Palliative Care Program of the World Health Organization and currently International Director of the Oxford International Centre for Palliative Care in the United Kingdom. Pain and Palliative Care in the Developing World and Marginalized Populations: A Global Challenge addresses issues of vital importance for the global health care community such as: Why do so many people in the developing world suffer excruciating pain for months and years when simple inexpensive medication could make them comfortable? They get MRI scans, why don't they have access to palliative care? Why do some palliative care programs fail to reach the needy? How could a palliative care delivery system be adapted to local needs? Why are medical and nursing students not taught the fundamentals of pain management? What direction should palliative care education take? Could health care resources be channeled to deliver care in a more just and equitable manner? This book chronicles the efforts of ambitious pain management care professionals to confront these questions, working toward an end to needless preventable pain and suffering. It examines their programs and acknowledges their successes and failures to date, with commentaries by international experts. This indispensable manual discusses palliative care programs in developing countries such as India, Chile, Argentina, Saudi Arabia, Thailand, Hong Kong, Malaysia, and others. Pain and Palliative Care in the Developing World and Marginalized Populations also offers an important look at pain management programs geared toward several specific underserved populations in both developing and developed countries, including Native Americans and inmates in a New Zealand prison. Illustrated with figures, graphs, and tables, this book is essential for practitioners and officials in both palliative and public health care. All proceeds from sales of this book will be used to support the growth of palliative care programs in India.

Approaching Death Institute of Medicine, Committee on Care at the End of Life, 1997-10-16. When the end of life makes its inevitable appearance, people should be able to expect reliable, humane, and effective caregiving. Yet too many dying people suffer unnecessarily. While an overtreated dying is feared, untreated pain or emotional abandonment are equally frightening. Approaching Death reflects a wide-ranging effort to understand what we know about care at the end of life, what we have yet to learn, and what we know but do not adequately apply. It seeks to build understanding of what constitutes good care for the dying and offers recommendations to decisionmakers that address specific barriers to achieving good care. This volume offers a profile of when, where, and how Americans die. It examines the dimensions of caring at the end of life: Determining diagnosis and prognosis and communicating these to patient and family; Establishing clinical and personal goals; Matching physical, psychological, spiritual, and practical care strategies to the patient's values and circumstances. Approaching Death considers the dying experience in hospitals, nursing homes, and other settings, and the role of interdisciplinary teams and managed care.

It offers perspectives on quality measurement and improvement the role of practice guidelines cost concerns and legal issues such as assisted suicide The book proposes how health professionals can become better prepared to care well for those who are dying and to understand that these are not patients for whom nothing can be done Palliative and End-of-Life Care, An Issue of Nursing Clinics of North America James C. Pace, Dorothy Wholihan, 2016-08-10 The Guest Editors have secured top experts in the area of palliative care to write current and clinically relevant articles Articles in this issue are devoted to Caring for LGBT Populations Integrating Palliative Care into Primary Care Pain Management in the Cognitively Impaired Pain Management in the Client with Substance Use Disorder Rituals at End of Life Death Bed Phenomena Family Care During End of Life Palliative Wound Care Pet Assisted Therapy in Palliative Care Palliative Sedation State of the Science Readers will come away with the updated information they need to provide state of the art palliative care to their patients
