

FESTIVALS OF GUYANA

Our National Holidays

Most of our public holidays in Guyana are religious ones. Since Christians , Hindus and Muslims are all part of the community and each group has its own customs and festivals, there is always a celebration to look forward to. Guyana being a society of six races we all join in celebrating with our neighbors in their festivals. No one is made to feel left out and all participate one way or another. With this sharing it makes our country a strong united place to live and visit. Thus giving a true meaning to our Motto

One People: One Nation : One Destiny

"Christmas"

Christmas and Easter are the major Christian festivals in Guyana. At Christmas time, people would normally do general cleaning of the house, repairs and any other cosmetic work on their homes. The women put up clean curtains and scrub the floors. Plans for making the famous "Black Cake" are put into works. Fruits are soaked in rum days before the cake is actually baked. "Garlic Pork" is another popular dish at Christmas. Normally a few nights before Christmas, the older folks start going from house to house and sing carols. There are lots of eating and drinking among the men folk, at this time. There is a famous phrase in Guyana that plays on the radio at this time.

"Christmas comes once a year"

"And every man must have his share"

"Only poor Willy in the jail, drinking sour ginger beer"

Parents take their kids to see "Father Christmas" at a department store in the city. The kids will normally get a small gift. There are also lots of parties and dances planned for the season. Churches hold services and the people of the Christian Faith attend, all in all it does not matter what religion you are, we all celebrate the season.

"Easter"

Easter is a very popular time of the year. It symbolizes Jesus resurrection from the dead. On Good Friday all businesses are closed and there are no movies playing at the cinemas. There are many church services and the mood is somber. Easter Sunday and Easter Monday is when all the fun starts. Imagine looking up into the sky and seeing hundreds of kites flying .All shapes and colors and the buzzing sound of the kites, all make for a beautiful site. The kite season starts a few days before Easter, the kids buy colored paper and start planning on what type of kite to make. It is a big thing for a person to have a great kite that can fly the highest and sing the loudest. Some of the kids even put razor blades at the end of the tail of their kite so that when it moves in the wind the tail will swing and cut the string of a neighboring kite. Mean as it may sounds , it is all part of the fun. Some people get upset but the majority accept it has all part of the fun. The kites are normally flown by the Sea Wall where the wind is strong and there are no overhead electrical wires.

"Diwali"

One of the most picturesque festival is the Hindu Diwali or the "Festival Of Lights". To understand Diwali you must know something about the great Hindu hero Rama. The story of Rama is set out in the Ramayana , a holy book which is often read at Hindu festivals. King Darsarata had three wives. His first
