Pdf Go Pink Ribbon For Breast Cancer Awareness Month:

HANYS News ,2000 Pink Ribbon Blues Gayle A. Sulik,2010-10-28 Medical sociologist Gayle A Sulik reveals the hidden costs of the pink ribbon as an industry one in which breast cancer functions as a brand name with a pink ribbon logo Based on historical and ethnographic research analysis of awareness campaigns and advertisements and hundreds of interviews Pink Ribbon Blues shows that while millions walk run and purchase products for a cure cancer rates continue to rise industry thrives and breast cancer is stigmatized anew for those who reject the pink ribbon model Even as Sulik points out the flaws of pink ribbon culture she outlines the positives and offers alternatives The paperback includes a new Introduction investigating Susan G Komen for the Cure and a color insert with images of and reactions to the pinking of breast cancer Pink Ribbons, Inc Samantha King,2006 The commercialization of the breast cancer movement is challenged in this analysis of how breast cancer has been transformed from a stigmatized disease and individual tragedy to a market driven industry of survivorship In the Pink Kira Stacey Jones,2011 When October was officially named National Breast Cancer Awareness Month NBCAM more than 20 years ago a week long event provided women with information about the disease The appearance of this sort of awareness campaign was a first and it began to fill the void in public communication about breast cancer Over the years NBCAM discourse has helped break through the previous silence and stigma surrounding the disease Over the years this discourse has become a purportedly common sense approach to breast cancer in the United States and one I suggest is fundamentally hegemonic In this thesis I study how the discourse of NBCAM encourages women to embrace a breast cancer awareness that is saturated with whiplash and back pedaling narratives and characterizations that establish a mixed message discourse comprised of contradictory conceptions of breast cancer detection breast cancer prevention breast cancer activism and breast cancer as a disease Through an analysis of a set of women s magazines I illustrate how the mixed message discourse of NBCAM establishes links between cultural values and life conditions that narrowly define the central ideograph breast cancer awareness and how the symbolic image of the pink ribbon works to recall and reiterate these specific messages and ways of understanding breast cancer Ultimately I argue that NBCAM discourse constrains how women think about and deal with breast cancer by conditioning them to a shared public vocabulary of concepts that guides and warrants their actions and excuses both their behavior and beliefs In my analysis I illustrate how this vocabulary invites privatized identifications with and commitments to constructions of breast cancer experience prevention and activism that contain gendered and traditionally feminine ideologies The rhetoric emphasizes personal responsibility over social context which obscures issues of social structure environmental protection and collective responsibility and positions breast cancer as a natural part of a woman s life which in turn dislocates collective political anxiety discussion and action from NBCAM discourse The Power of Pink Jennifer A. Harvey,Michal Ann Strahilevitz,2010 The pink ribbon is one of the most widely recognized symbols in the United States It can symbolize strength hope responsibility empathy and permission to discuss breast cancer though not all associations are uniformly positive Cause related marketing is an agreement between nonprofit and for profit organizations to promote a product that provides benefit for the cause through increasing awareness and financial contributions from sales For profit organizations benefit through the association of the positive ideology of the pink ribbon The relationship between the organizations should be mutually beneficial the percentage of funds donated should be reasonable and the organizations that benefit should be respected institutions Many breast cancer organizations have obtained significant benefit from corporate partnerships in cause related marketing Certainly breast cancer awareness is much stronger now than 15 years ago However not all products are appropriate for promotion particularly products that may increase the risk for breast cancer such as alcohol No corporation is licensed to have exclusive use of the pink ribbon symbol leaving it open to potential abuse Backlash by consumers has raised awareness of the misuse of the pink ribbon and cause related marketing As marketing becomes more global the impact of the pink ribbon in the third world may spur open dialogue and reduce the taboo associated with breast cancer observed in some cultures
