Digital Vision and the Ecological Aesthetic (1968 - 2018) Lisa FitzGerald, 2020-12-10 Digital technology has transformed the way that we visualise the natural world the art we create and the stories we tell about our environments Exploring contemporary digital art and literature through an ecocritical lens Digital Vision and the Ecological Aesthetic 1968 2018 demonstrates the many ways in which critical ideas of the sublime the pastoral and the picturesque have been renewed and shaped in digital media from electronic literature to music and the visual arts The book goes on to explore the ecological implications of these new forms of cultural representation in the digital age and in so doing makes a profound contribution to our understanding of digital art practice in the 21st century The Atlas of AI Kate Crawford, 2021-04-06 The hidden costs of artificial intelligence from natural resources and labor to privacy and freedom What happens when artificial intelligence saturates political life and depletes the planet How is AI shaping our understanding of ourselves and our societies In this book Kate Crawford reveals how this planetary network is fueling a shift toward undemocratic governance and increased inequality Drawing on more than a decade of research award winning science and technology Crawford reveals how AI is a technology of extraction from the energy and minerals needed to build and sustain its infrastructure to the exploited workers behind automated services to the data AI collects from us Rather than taking a narrow focus on code and algorithms Crawford offers us a political and a material perspective on what it takes to make artificial intelligence and where it goes wrong While technical systems present a veneer of objectivity they are always systems of power This is an urgent account of what is at stake as technology companies use artificial intelligence to reshape the world The Digital Pandemic João Pedro Cachopo, 2022-05-19 A refreshing approach to the dominance of technology in our contemporary lives The Digital Pandemic translated from Portuguese poses fundamental questions about love fear connectedness proximity imagination and consciousness Arguing that the pandemic has ushered in a civilizational digital shock Jo o Pedro Cachopo charts new channels of relatedness and communication between people through digital technologies for the foreseeable future The transformation of human experience that began in 2020 creates a break in our sociality that Cachopo pinpoints through key themes of love travel study community and art In contrast to the growing philosophical literature on the pandemic this bold theoretical work does not prophesy the fall of capitalism or the end of personal freedom and relationships Instead this book carefully investigates the advanced technology that is increasingly inextricable from our lives using an alternative approach that avoids pessimism while remaining alert to the risks and threats of the digital age It opens up the possibility of fostering global solidarity and consciousness beyond physical borders in the 21st century Art in the Age of the Internet Eva Respini, 2018-01-01 Art in the Age of the Internet 1989 to Today is the first major thematic group exhibition in the United States to examine the radical impact of internet culture on visual art Featuring 60 artists collaborations and collectives the exhibition is comprised of over 70 works across a variety of mediums including painting performance photography sculpture video web based projects and virtual reality The exhibition is divided into five sections that explore themes such as emergent ideas of the body and notions of human enhancement the internet as a site of both surveillance and resistance the circulation and control of images and information the possibilities for exploring identity and community afforded by virtual domains and new economies of visibility accelerated by social media Throughout the work in the exhibition addresses the internet age democratization of culture that comprises our current moment The earliest work in the exhibition is from 1989 the year that Tim Berners Lee invented the World Wide Web This development and others that followed in quick succession modernized the internet and in the process radically changed our way of life from how we access and generate information make friends and share experiences to how we imagine our future bodies and how nations police national security 1989 also marked a watershed moment across the globe with significant shifts in politics geographies and economies Events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall and protests in Tiananmen Square signaled the beginning of our current globalized age which cannot be imagined without the internet
