Advancing Technology and Educational Development through Blended Learning in Emerging Economies Ololube, Nwachukwu Prince, 2013-09-30 Blended learning continues to emerge as a more proactive and high quality method of teaching and learning. Yet as the academic landscape shifts towards technology based efforts the lack of economic support in developing countries has hindered its educational growth. Advancing Technology and Educational Development through Blended Learning in Emerging Economies provides an insight on blended learning approaches and its importance in the educational development of emerging economies. This book is a vital resource for researchers academics professionals and students involved in the management and organizational development of technology use in educational settings. Metaphors in Psychotherapy Kevin William Grant, 2020-01-28 Kevin William Grant examines the cognitive processes that produce metaphors in psychotherapy. The I Ching Task is the measure of metaphor production applied in this research inquiry. Two cognitive processes are hypothesized to be necessary for the production of a metaphor. The first hypothesized cognitive process is sensory imaginal processing where attention is concentrated into one's internal experiencing and sensory awareness to form sensory impressions or sensory images. The second type of processing is called integration synthesis processing and this is hypothesized to work in parallel with sensory imaginal processing. Integration synthesis processing functions to combine conflicting or contradictory elements into an integrated whole. Metaphor is the meeting point of these processes and all of them are important in the production of metaphor in psychotherapy. Revised and updated from the first edition published in 1991.
