The author of the acclaimed bestselling In Praise of Difficult Women delivers a hilarious feminist manifesto that encourages us to reject self-improvement and instead learn to appreciate and flaunt our complex and flawed human selves. Why are we so obsessed with being our so-called best selves? Because our modern culture forces women into lies designed to heighten their insecurities. You can do it all: crush it at work, at home, in the bedroom, at PTA, and at Pilates. And because you can, you should. We can show you how. Karen Karbo has had enough. She's taking a stand against the cultural and societal pressures, marketing, and media influences that push us to spend endless time, energy, and money trying to fix ourselves, a race that has no finish line and only further increases our sense of self-dissatisfaction and loathing. Yeah, no, not happening is her battle cry. In this wickedly smart and entertaining book, Karbo explores how self-improvement evolved from the provenance of men to women. Recast as consumers in the 1920s, women it turned out could be seduced into buying anything that might improve not just their lives but their sense of self-worth. Today we smirk at Mad Men era ads targeting 1950s housewives, even while savvy marketers aided and abetted by social media influencers peddle skin care systems, skinny tea, and regimens that promise to deliver endless happiness. We're not simply seduced into dropping precious disposable income.

on empty promises the underlying message is that we can't possibly know what's good for us what we want or who we should be Calling BS Karbo blows the lid off of this age old trend and asks women to start embracing their awesomely imperfect selves There is no one more dangerous than a woman who doesn't care what anyone thinks of her Yeah No Not Happening is a call to arms to build a posse of dangerous women who swear off self improvement and its peddlers A welcome corrective to our inner critic Karbo's manifesto will help women restore their sanity and reclaim their self worth Collier's ,1929
