Ancestral Knowledges and Postcoloniality in Contemporary Ecuador Julia von Sigsfeld, 2022-11-04 In light of an unprecedented constitutional acknowledgement of diverse epistemologies and stipulation making the protection and advancement of so called ancestral knowledges a duty of the state this research provides an analysis of the uptake of historically subalternised knowledges by the state during the government of Rafael Correa 2007-2017 as well as of the strive for epistemic justice by peoples and nationalities organisations in the context of struggles for social change decolonisation and self determination On the basis of rich empirical material the analysis traces state discourses and practices and mechanisms to govern ancestral knowledges in the framework of the government's Knowledge Society project and delineates how leaders of peoples and nationalities organisations struggle for the decolonisation of knowledge This monograph will be of interest to those concerned with relations between peoples and nationalities and Latin American states politics of recognition and collective rights the workings of purportedly post neoliberal governments and the possibilities and limits for alternatives to development the struggle of peoples and nationalities organisations for epistemic decolonisation as well as ongoing re conceptualisations of cosmopolitanisms against restructurations of the coloniality of knowledge and being

Sustainability on University Campuses: Learning, Skills Building and Best Practices Walter Leal Filho, Ugo Bardi, 2019-06-03 The implementation of sustainability initiatives on campuses is an essential component of promoting sustainability in the higher education context In addition to reflecting an awareness of environmental issues campus programmes demonstrate how seriously universities take sustainability at the institutional level There is a lack of truly interdisciplinary publications that comprehensively address the issue of campus greening and there is an even greater need for publications that do so at a truly international level This book meets these needs It is one of the outcomes of the Second Symposium on Sustainability in University Campuses SSUC 2018 which was jointly organised by the University of Florence Italy Manchester Metropolitan University UK the Research and Transfer Centre Sustainable Development and Climate Change Management and the European School of Sustainability Science and Research at the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences Germany in cooperation with the Inter University Sustainable Development Research Programme IUSDRP The book showcases examples of campus based research and teaching projects regenerative campus design low carbon and zero carbon buildings waste prevention and resilient transport among others Ultimately it demonstrates the role of campuses as platforms for transformative social learning and research and explores the means by which university campuses can be made more sustainable The aims of this publication are as follows to provide universities with essential information on campus greening and sustainable campus development initiatives from around the world to share ideas and lessons learned in the course of research teaching and projects on campus greening and design especially successful initiatives and good practice and to introduce methodological approaches and projects intended to integrate the topic of sustainable development in campus design and operations This book gathers contributions from researchers and practitioners in the field of campus greening and sustainable development in the widest sense from business and economics to the arts administration and the environment and hailing from Europe Latin America North America and Asia
