Streaming Video Resources for Teaching, Learning, and Research
 Julie A. DeCesare, 2014-03-27 According to a 2012 Ithaka study, 80 percent of faculty in the humanities and 70 percent in social sciences use video film and non-textual resources for teaching undergraduates. Streaming video is not simply an accommodation to distance learners; rather, it is an expectation for the curriculum and a valuable tool for teaching critical thinking skills, analysis, and the use of primary sources. This issue of Library Technology Reports will help you recommend high-quality video resources for faculty and researchers with information on 75 YouTube channels for teaching learning and research, 11 interdisciplinary video and multimedia sites with annotations on features and content, 6 open access course collections, 5 university channels and collections. Using video with Moodle, Sakai, LibGuides, or WordPress. Mass market video sites that offer library-friendly business models.

Emerging Technologies in Non-Destructive Testing V. Alkiviadis S. Paipetis, Theodore E. Matikas, Dimitrios G. Aggelis, Danny Van Hemelrijck, 2012-01-26 Non-destructive evaluation (NDE) methods have dominated most of the fields of applied research and technology over the last twenty years. These techniques provide information on the functional efficiency of materials and structures without causing any structural impact on the structure itself. Their use enables the monitoring of the structural integrity.

The Strategos Guide to Value Stream and Process Mapping Quarterman Lee, Brad Snyder, 2023-05-09 At last, this much anticipated book has been published and provides a much-needed breath of fresh air. The Strategos Guide to Value Stream and Process Mapping has helpful tips on facilitating group VSM exercises and helps put VSM in the greater Lean context. With photos and examples of related Lean practices, the book focuses on implementing VSM, not just on drawing diagrams and graphs. This is the most comprehensive and practical book on the subject to date.

Watching TV Harry Castleman, Walter J. Podrazik, 2024-12-16 Castleman and Podrazik present a season-by-season narrative that encompasses the eras of American television from the beginning in broadcast through cable and now streaming. They deftly navigate the dizzying array of contemporary choices so that no matter where you start on the media timeline, Watching TV provides the context and background to this multi-billion-dollar enterprise. Drawing on decades of research, the authors weave together personalities, popular shows, corporate strategies, historical events, and changing technologies, enhancing the main commentary with additional elements that include fall prime-time schedule grids for every season, date-box timelines, highlighted key text, and selected photos. Full of facts, first insights, and exploits from now back to the earliest days, Watching

TV is the standard chronology of American television and reading it is akin to channel surfing through history The fourth edition updates the story into the 2020s and looks ahead to the next waves of change This new edition is the first to also be available in a digital format

Watching While Black Beretta E. Smith-Shomade, 2013-01-10 Television scholarship has substantially ignored programming aimed at Black audiences despite a few sweeping histories and critiques In this volume the first of its kind contributors examine the televisual diversity complexity and cultural imperatives manifest in programming directed at a Black and marginalized audience Watching While Black considers its subject from an entirely new angle in an attempt to understand the lives motivations distinctions kindred lines and individuality of various Black groups and suggest what television might be like if such diversity permeated beyond specialized enclaves It looks at the macro structures of ownership producing casting and advertising that all inform production and then delves into television programming crafted to appeal to black audiences historic and contemporary domestic and worldwide Chapters rethink such historically significant programs as Roots and Black Journal such seemingly innocuous programs as Fat Albert and Bro-Town and such contemporary and culturally complicated programs as Noah's Ark: Treme and The Boondocks The book makes a case for the centrality of these programs while always recognizing the racial dynamics that continue to shape Black representation on the small screen Painting a decidedly introspective portrait across forty years of Black television Watching While Black sheds much needed light on underexamined demographics broadens common audience considerations and gives deference to the preferences of audiences and producers of Black targeted programming

International Tables for Crystallography, Volume F Eddy Arnold, Daniel M. Himmel, Michael G. Rossmann, 2012-03-05 International Tables for Crystallography Volume F is an expert guide to macromolecular crystallography for the structural biologist It was commissioned by the International Union of Crystallography in recognition of the extraordinary contributions that knowledge of macromolecular structure has made and will make to the analysis of biological systems from enzyme catalysis to the workings of a whole cell The volume covers all stages of a crystallographic analysis from the preparation of recombinant proteins through crystallization diffraction data collection phase determination structure validation and structure analysis Although the volume is written for experienced scientists it is recognized that the reader is more likely to be a biologist interested in structure than a classical crystallographer interested in biology Thus there are chapters on the fundamentals history and current perspectives of macromolecular crystallography as well as on useful programs and databases such as the Protein Data Bank Each chapter is written by one or more internationally recognized experts This second edition features 19 new articles and many articles from the first edition have been revised The new articles cover topics such as standard definitions for quality indicators expression of membrane proteins protein engineering high throughput crystallography radiation damage merohedral twinning low resolution ab initio phasing robotic crystal loading whole cell X-ray diffraction imaging and halogen interactions in biological crystal structures There are also new articles on relevant software including software for electron microscopy These enhancements will ensure that Volume F continues to be a key reference for macromolecular crystallographers and structural biologists More information on the series can be found at <http://it.iucr.org>
