

Multiple Choice Questions

1. The first step in the process of creating a new product is to identify a need or want. This is often done through market research, which involves gathering information about the target market and their needs. This information is then used to develop a product that meets those needs.

2. The second step in the process of creating a new product is to develop a concept. This involves creating a detailed description of the product, including its features, benefits, and target market. This concept is then used to create a prototype, which is a physical model of the product.
