Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity Lori G. Beaman, 2017-06-02 While religious conflict receives plenty of attention the everyday negotiation of religious diversity does not Questions of how to accommodate religious minorities and of the limits of tolerance resonate in a variety of contexts and have become central preoccupations for many Western democracies What might we see if we turned our attention to the positive narratives and success stories of the everyday working out of religious difference Rather than tolerance and accommodation and through the stories of ordinary people this book traces deep equality which is found in the respect humour and friendship of seemingly mundane interactions Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity shows that the telling of such stories can create an alternative narrative to that of diversity as a problem to be solved It explores the non event or micro processes of interaction that constitute the foundation for deep equality and the conditions under which deep equality emerges exists and sometimes flourishes Through a systematic search for and examination of such narratives Lori G Beaman demonstrates the possibility of uncovering revealing and recovering deep equality a recovery that is vital to living in an increasingly diverse society In achieving deep equality identities are fluid shifting in importance and structure as social interaction unfolds Rigid identity imaginings especially religious identities block our vision to the complexities of social life and press us into corners that trap us in identities that we often ourselves do not recognize want or know how to escape Although the focus of this study is deep equality and its existence and persistence in relation to religious difference deep equality is located beyond the realm of religion Beaman draws from the work of those whose primary focus is not in fact religion and who are doing their own deep equality work in other domains illustrating especially why equality matters By retelling and exploring stories of negotiation it is possible to reshape our social imaginary to better facilitate what works which varies from place to place and time to time

Islam Is a Foreign Country Zareena Grewal, 2014 Considers the question what does it mean to be Muslim and American In Islam Is a Foreign Country Zareena Grewal explores some of the most pressing debates about and among American Muslims what does it mean to be Muslim and American Who has the authority to speak for Islam and to lead the stunningly diverse population of American Muslims Do their ties to the larger Muslim world undermine their efforts to make Islam an American religion Offering rich insights into these questions and more Grewal follows the journeys of American Muslim youth who travel in global underground Islamic networks Devoutly religious and often politically disaffected these young men and women are in search of a home for themselves and their tradition Through their stories Grewal captures the multiple directions of the global flows of people practices and ideas that connect U S mosques to the Muslim world By examining the tension between American Muslims ambivalence toward the American mainstream and their desire to enter it Grewal puts contemporary debates about Islam in the context of a long history of American racial and religious exclusions Probing the competing obligations of American Muslims to the nation and to the umma the global community of Muslim believers Islam is a Foreign Country investigates the meaning of American citizenship and the place of Islam in a global age CIIR Round Table on Inter-Faith

The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences ,2000 Seminar ,2007 Pacific Seminar I 2007, University of the Pacific ,2007 Between Islam and the State Berna Turam, 2007 Examines how shifting power dynamics between the state and Islamic forces during the 1990s have transformed both Islam and the Turkish state Shalom ,1991 Metropolis ,2006 Proceedings of the Seminar for Arabian Studies St John Simpson, Lloyd Weeks, 2007 Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Seminar for Arabian Studies 2006 India's Muslims Rafiuddin Ahmed, Barbara Daly Metcalf, 2007 In Islamic Revival in British India Metcalf explains the response of ulama to the colonial dominance and the collapse of Muslim political power The Bengal Muslims studies the creation of the Bengali Muslim identity through an examination of the religious literature known as puthis and raises doubts about the validity of any simple explanation Legacy of a Divided Nation examines the origins of Muslim separatism under the British the role of AMU and Jamia and the state of Muslims in India after the Babri Masjid period Taken together these three volumes create a comprehensive picture of the evolution of identities of Muslims in the Indian subcontinent With these varied approaches to the subject brought together in the form of the Omnibus the readers will benefit from the range of perspectives it offers Resources in Education ,1998-04 The Lutheran ,1980 Muslim Lives in Eastern Europe Kristen Rogheh Ghodsee, 2010 Muslim Lives in Eastern Europe examines how gender identities were reconfigured in a Bulgarian Muslim community following the demise of Communism and an influx of international aid from the Islamic world Kristen Ghodsee conducted extensive ethnographic research among a small population of Pomaks Slavic Muslims living in the remote mountains of southern Bulgaria After Communism fell in 1989 Muslim minorities in Bulgaria sought to rediscover their faith after decades of state imposed atheism But instead of returning to their traditionally heterodox roots isolated groups of Pomaks embraced a distinctly foreign type of Islam which swept into their communities on the back of Saudi financed international aid to Balkan Muslims and which these Pomaks believe to be a more correct interpretation of their religion Ghodsee explores how gender relations among the Pomaks had to be renegotiated after the collapse of both Communism and the region's state subsidized lead and zinc mines She shows how mosques have replaced the mines as the primary site for jobless and underemployed men to express their masculinity and how Muslim women have encouraged this as a way to combat alcoholism and domestic violence Ghodsee demonstrates how women's embrace of this new form of Islam has led them to adopt more conservative family roles and how the Pomaks' new religion remains deeply influenced by Bulgaria's Marxist Leninist legacy with its calls for morality, social justice and human solidarity

Carefree Days Pran Nevile, 2016-03-10 In his unusual and extraordinary life Pran Nevile has donned several hats: journalist, researcher, diplomat, Soviet bloc expert, United Nations adviser and writer. On short notice he even turned pandit to perform the wedding ceremony of a close friend's daughter. Carefree Days is the story of his multifaceted life beginning in pre-Partition Lahore where he completed his education. It was a time of happy camaraderie between Hindus and Muslims in college that gave way all too soon to the trauma of Partition. His diplomatic postings took him into the corridors of power in Japan, the Soviet Union, Poland and the US. There was a sojourn in Yugoslavia under President Tito in the heyday of India's friendship with the country which would split up after Tito's death. Along the way he observed keenly the cultures and peculiarities he encountered: from the Japanese emphasis on discipline and loyalty to the aura of secrecy that shrouded KGB officials in Moscow. During his postings he also became something of an authority on trading with the communist economies. A great raconteur, Nevile began writing much later in his life. His interests range from the naught culture of India to the music of K. L. Saigal in whose memory he has established a music society. A pilgrimage to the past, Carefree Days is an autobiographical account of a life well lived of several lifetimes lived in one.

Papers Presented to the Seminar, Held at Eysingahuis, Leiden, 15-19 December, 1975, 1975 The Muslim World Book Review, 1993 Notes from a Seminar Henry H. Gaffney, 1993 Index of Islamic Literature, 1993
