Islamisation and Its Opponents in Java M. C. Ricklefs, 2012-09-30 First published by NUS Press National University of Singapore

Indonesian Women and Local Politics Kurniawati Hastuti Dewi, 2015-03 In an important social change female Muslim political leaders in Java have enjoyed considerable success in direct local elections following the fall of Suharto in Indonesia Indonesian women and Local Politics shows that Islam gender and social networks have been decisive in their political victories Islamic ideas concerning female leadership provide a strong religious foundation for their political campaigns However their approach to women s issues shows that female leaders do not necessarily adopt a woman s perspectives when formulating policies This new trend of Muslim women in politics will continue to shape the growth and direction of democratization in local politics in post Suharto Indonesia and will color future discourse on gender politics and Islam in contemporary Southeast Asia Between the Mountain and the Sea Frank Dhont, Tracy Wrigh Webster, Rommel Argamosa Curaming, 2013 On relations between Indonesian people and their environment religions and social life seminar papers Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields, 2008 The Law Applied Peri Bearman, Wolfhart Heinrichs, Bernard G. Weiss, 2008-01-30 A sea change has taken place in Islamic legal studies This book both reflects and contributes to that change Traditionally scholars in this field have tended to focus on law as a body of rules and doctrines as fiqh This volume is more interested in how the law has been applied to concrete situations It looks at judicial decision making legal responses fatwas customary practices the actions of public inspectors cultural contexts and theological discourses as well as modern legal reform and constitutional development Reflecting the interests of a new academic generation The Law Applied offers an ambitious and textured account of how Islamic law works in practice in the social life of the contemporary world South Asia Bulletin, 2007 Muslim Law in Modern India Paras Diwan, 1985

Shari'a and Social Engineering R. Michael Feener, 2013-12-12 This book seeks to open new lines of discussion about how Islamic law is viewed as a potential tool for programs of social transformation in contemporary Muslim society It does this through a critical examination of the workings of the state shari a system as it was designed and implemented at the turn of the twenty first century in Aceh Indonesia While the empirical details of these discussions are unique this particular case presents a remarkable site for investigating the broader issue of the impact of instrumentalist future oriented visions of Islamic law on modern Muslim calls for the state implementation of Islamic law In post tsunami post conflict Aceh the idea of shari a as an exercise in social engineering was amplified through resonance with an increasingly pervasive rhetoric of total reconstruction Based upon extensive fieldwork as well as critical readings of a wide range of archival materials official documents and local publications this work focuses on the institutions and actors involved with this contemporary project for the state implementation of Islamic law The individual chapters are structured to deal with the major components of this system to critically examine how these institutions have taken shape and how they work It also shows how the overall system was informed not only by aspects of late twentieth century da wa discourses of Islamic reform but also modern trends in sociological jurisprudence and the impact of global models of disaster relief reconstruction and development All of these streams of influence have contributed significantly to shaping the ways in which the architects and agents of the state shari a system have attempted to use Islamic legislation and legal institutions as tools to steer society in particular desired directions This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Generasi baru peneliti Muslim Indonesia Marzuki Wahid, 2010 Studies on various issues of Islam in Indonesia
