Muslim Teens Today's Worry Tomorrow's Hope:

Muslim Teens Ekram Beshir, Mohamed Rida Beshir, 2001

When Muslim Teens Rebel Mohamed Rida Beshir, 2008

James Herriot meets Bridget Jones in this honest no holds barred account of the ups and downs of a vet's life. Misty was ecstatic to see her owner but to the nurse's surprise her owner just stood there and said 'What have you done with my dog's head?' I'm sorry replied the nurse 'what do you mean?' She's just been in for spaying. That isn't my dog's head. The rest of it is my dog but you've put a different head on it. On a crisp October morning in 1996 Emma Milne started her first job as a newly qualified vet and now she tells the full story. We discover the numerous things that can get stuck in an animal's stomach, how to stop a cow exploding and the biggest truth of all that animals are easy to deal with in comparison to their owners. They say that truth is stranger than fiction and these tales turn out to be stranger and funnier than you could ever have imagined.

The Psychodynamics of First Generation Arab-American Muslim Women Amal Hassoun Nardi, 2007-05-17. This causal comparative study explores the acculturation and its effects on the psychodynamics of first generation Arab American Muslim women born and raised in the United States. Torn between the Old World customs of their parents and modern American traditions, first generation Arab American Muslim women face a major identity challenge in trying to balance their two worlds. Developmental psychologist E. H. Erikson (1970) proposed a theory of psychosocial development based on six basic concepts: stages of development, developmental task, psychosocial crisis, the central process for resolving the psychosocial crisis, the radius of significant relationship, and coping behaviors. Coupled with Erikson's theory is Young Yun Kim's theory of acculturation (1977) which posits that acculturation is a phenomenon when immigrants eventually come to understand the norms and values of their host society and that media of the host society provided a catalyst for the acculturation process. Suinn Rickard Figueroa Lew Vigil (1987) developed the Suinn Lew Asian Self Identity Acculturation Scale (SLASIA) with 26 questions designed to measure acculturation level. The author adjusted the SLASIA to a more Arab focused version of the scale called the ASLASIA. A pilot study was conducted to insure reliability and validity. The Arab Focused Suinn Lew Asian Self Identity Acculturation Scale (ASLASIA) was used to measure the levels of acculturation of immigrant Arab Muslim mothers and the acculturation levels of their first generation Arab American Muslim daughters. A second tool used was the Mother Adult Daughter (MAD) Questionnaire. Developed by Rastogi (1995), the twenty-five question MAD measures the adult daughter's perception of connectedness, interdependence, and trust in hierarchy in her relationship with her mother. The last instrument used in this study was the Adult Attachment Inventory (AAI). Created by Main et al. (1984), the AAI is used to assess the attachment related issues of the mother's parenting styles. The AAI is a structured hour-long semi-clinical interview focusing on early experiences and their effects. Several studies have shown that a mother's attachment level affects the attachment level of her daughter. Therefore, this study focuses on the question: Does the level of acculturation of an immigrant Arab Muslim mother compare with the level of acculturation of her first generation Arab American Muslim daughter? The research design of this study was based on an extensive literature review on the topics of Erikson's psychosocial theory 1970 Kim's acculturation theory 1977 Arab Muslim cultural perspective and Islamic texts The premise of this study was that Arab Muslim mothers' levels of acculturation will affect the levels of acculturation of their first generation Arab American Muslim daughters It was also expected that the level of maternal cultural identification would affect the acculturation level of the first generation Arab American Muslim daughter Finally it is anticipated that the first generation Arab American Muslim daughter's level of acculturation would affect her attachment level to her immigrant Arab Muslim mother Findings appeared to support the hypothesis that the level of acculturation of the immigrant Arab Muslim mother is positively correlated with the level of acculturation of her first generation Arab American Muslim daughter A second hypothesis that the level of maternal cultural identification would affect the acculturation level of her first generation Arab American Muslim daughter was not supported Also results did not support the third hypothesis that the acculturation level of first generation Arab American Muslim daughters would affect her attachment level with her immigrant Arab Muslim mother The aim of future research is to aid therapists in becoming more culturally sensitive to their patients as well as to gain deeper understanding of the affects of acculturation I

Teens, Religion & Values Hal Marcovitz, 2014-09-02 Most young people report that they believe in God yet recent surveys by the Gallup Organization have shown that fewer than half of all teenagers in the United States regularly attend church Is organized religion losing its influence on young people How many teenagers think about careers in the clergy This volume examines the influence of religion and values on young people today

Nurturing Child and Adolescent Spirituality Karen-Marie Yust, 2006 Nurturing Child and Adolescent Spirituality Perspectives from the World's Religious Traditions provides a forum for prominent religious scholars to examine the state of religious knowledge and theological reflection on spiritual development in childhood and adolescence Featuring essays from thinkers representing the world's major religious traditions the book introduces new voices challenges assumptions raises new questions and broadens the base of knowledge and investment in this important domain of life It specifically and intentionally focuses on theological and philosophical perspectives from within religious traditions creating space for the religious traditions to find their voices Nurturing Child and Adolescent Spirituality is firmly grounded in the language and priorities of religious studies and helps stimulate explorations of whether and how religious communities are tapping their own wisdom and strengths in nurturing today's young people in a complex and changing world Nurturing Child and Adolescent Spirituality will set the stage for new waves of scholarship and dialogue within and across traditions disciplines and cultures that will enrich understanding and strengthen how the world's religious traditions and others understand and cultivate the spiritual lives of children and adolescents around the globe

Understanding Diversity Through Novels and Picture Books Liz Knowles, Martha Smith, 2007-05-30 Understanding Diversity Through Novels and Picture Books goes beyond the usual multicultural lists and looks at the wide expanse of the diversity of cultures and lifestyles impacting children's lives in America today and identifies good books to have in library collections for them to read Included are annotated titles with discussion questions from all of the identified cultures and subcultures and annotated teacher librarian resources print and Web based as well as an excellent list of topical annotated journal articles Grades 4-8 Knowles and Smith examine current research on diversity and multiculturalism They move away from the traditional aspects of multicultural education food fashion folktales festivals and famous people to a focus on novels and picture books and realistic fiction to show children with diversity issues that there are others in similar positions The issue of authenticity whether the author of the book should be of that culture or merely familiar with the culture is discussed Topics include Ethnicities Asian Latino Hispanic African Black Native American White European Bi Multiracial Exceptionalities Ageism Socioeconomic Status Sexual Orientation Gender and Religion The authors provide this valuable resource for libraries schools and communities that wish to utilize literature to help diverse students walk in the shoes of others and to match books to children and young adults to heighten understanding and acceptance Grades 4-8

Muslim Women Activists in North America Katherine Bullock, 2005-09 In the eyes of many Westerners Muslim women are hidden behind a veil of negative stereotypes that portray them as either oppressed subservient wives and daughters or more recently as potential terrorists Yet many Muslim women defy these stereotypes by taking active roles in their families and communities and working to create a more just society This book introduces eighteen Muslim women activists from the United States and Canada who have worked in fields from social services to marital counseling to political advocacy in order to further social justice within the Muslim community and in the greater North American society Each of the activists has written an autobiographical narrative in which she discusses such issues as her personal motivation for doing activism work her views on the relationship between Islam and women's activism and the challenges she has faced and overcome such as patriarchal cultural barriers within the Muslim community or racism and discrimination within the larger society The women activists are a heterogeneous group including North American converts to Islam Muslim immigrants to the United States and Canada and the daughters of immigrants Young women at the beginning of their activist lives as well as older women who have achieved regional or national prominence are included Katherine Bullock's introduction highlights the contributions to society that Muslim women have made since the time of the Prophet Muhammad and sounds a call for contemporary Muslim women to become equal partners in creating and maintaining a just society within and beyond the Muslim community
