Kornhaber, Edward Garcia Fierros, Shirley A. Veenema, 2004 Based on a national investigation of more than 40 schools in the US and on detailed case studies this book shows how teachers in six real life situations were able to construct and implement curricula that enabled students to learn challenging disciplinary content through multiple intelligence Tales of Thinking Paul Carreiro, 1998 When are you going to teach me something A provocative question from Caroline one of the children you will meet in Paul Carreiro's story of how he has incorporated Howard Gardner's work on multiple intelligences in his busy kindergarten classroom Focusing on his current students he also looks back at the other elementary level children he has worked with including special needs students Paul describes how he has constructed a workable framework for approaching any topic or curriculum in a way that accommodates a range of intelligences You will find answers to the questions he has posed for himself How can I get the most thinking from the simplest everyday acts of teaching How can I develop thinking in the broadest range of learners How can I teach so that all children perceive themselves as thinkers How can I use the electronic media to develop and extend thinking The heart of the book deals with the entry points Gardner has nominated as being useful in approaching any topic In concise chapters Paul describes the specific and practical strategies he has developed that demonstrate ways in which children can and do think when prompted by appropriate teacher challenges Tales of Thinking includes material related to the newly nominated naturalist intelligence discusses the use of the portfolio process with young children has many examples of recognizing and extending thinking from media saturated children expands your understanding of the scope of Gardner's work provides examples of teaching strategies to accommodate intelligences in your classroom offers evidence of how negotiated curricula can work even in a crowded curriculum models the process and practice of authentic teacher inquiry Find out how dance took over a kindergarten class Listen in as children consider whether their teacher is an alien Observe the learning that takes place as children learn to talk mathematically By relating these and many other tales of thinking from children and Implementing Multiple Intelligences Thomas R. Hoerr, 1996 Introduction to the theory of multiple intelligences how to implement this theory into the curriculum and how this theory was implemented at the New City School in St Louis Missouri Becoming a Multiple Intelligences School

Thomas R. Hoerr, 2000-02-15 In this invaluable book Tom Hoerr relates a decade s worth of MI experiences at St Louis New City School We learn about the staff s initial exposure to MI theory the many activities some more successful than others that were undertaken by faculty and staff in teaching curriculum adult development and assessment the challenges that the leader faces in attempting to bring about significant and lasting change Especially compelling are the continuing efforts to develop the personal intelligences during a period when issues of diversity multiculturalism and standards loom so large Hoerr underscores the centrality of collegiality the problems posed by transient students and faculty the complementary role played by public exhibitions and standardized test scores the role of friends in determining the activities and intelligences favored by children the delicate line between support and challenge that the leader must walk the tension between excellence and perfection I value the concrete examples as well as the ties to important conceptual work such as that undertaken by Roland Barth on collegiality Peter Salovey on emotional intelligence and Peter Senge on the learning organization Achieving excellence has always been a process Hoerr makes it abundantly clear that the effort to use MI ideas effectively must remain on the agenda Still I can testify that over a 10 year period clear palpable impressive progress can be made We can improve schools significantly but only if we take the long view and do not settle for patchwork fixes Note This product listing is for the Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the book Eight Ways of Teaching David G. Lazear, 1999 Eight ways of teaching the artistry of teaching with multiple intelligences Multiple Intelligences and Instructional Technology Walter McKenzie, 2005 Demonstrates how multiple intelligences theory can be teamed with technology to produce curriculum that inspires students to learn
