

The background of the slide is a reproduction of the painting 'The Musician' by Leonardo da Vinci. It depicts an elderly man with a large, wrinkled head and a full beard, wearing a dark robe, leaning over a table. He is holding a quill pen over an open book of musical notation. A young woman with long, wavy hair is leaning over his shoulder, her head resting on his, looking down at the book. The lighting is dramatic, coming from the side, highlighting the textures of the man's skin and the folds of the woman's white garment. The overall mood is one of quiet concentration and shared intellectual pursuit.

Mute Poetry, Speaking Pictures Leonard Barkan, 2012-11-25 The skirmish between painting and poetry from Plato and Praxiteles to Rembrandt and Shakespeare Why do painters sometimes wish they were poets and why do poets sometimes wish they were painters What happens when Rembrandt spells out Hebrew in the sky or Poussin spells out Latin on a tombstone What happens when Virgil Ovid or Shakespeare suspend their plots to describe a fictitious painting In Mute Poetry Speaking Pictures Leonard Barkan explores such questions as he examines the deliciously ambiguous history of the relationship between words and pictures focusing on the period from antiquity to the Renaissance but offering insights that also have much to say about modern art and literature The idea that a poem is like a picture has been a commonplace since at least ancient Greece and writers and artists have frequently discussed poetry by discussing painting and vice versa but their efforts raise more questions than they answer From Plutarch painting is mute poetry poetry a speaking picture to Horace as a picture so a poem apparent clarity quickly leads to confusion about for example what qualities of pictures are being urged upon poets or how pictorial properties can be converted into poetical ones The history of comparing and contrasting painting and poetry turns out to be partly a story of attempts to promote one medium at the expense of the other At the same time analogies between word and image have enabled writers and painters to think about and practice their craft Ultimately Barkan argues this dialogue is an expression of desire the painter longs for the rich signification of language while the poet yearns for the direct sensuousness of painting

Mute Poetry, Speaking Pictures (eGalley). Leonard Barkan, Museum of Words James A. W. Heffernan, 2004-04 Ekphrasis is the art of describing works of art the verbal representation of visual representation Profoundly ambivalent ekphrastic poetry celebrates the power of the silent image even as it tries to circumscribe that power with the authority of the word Over the ages its practitioners have created a museum of words about real and imaginary paintings and sculptures In the first book ever to explore this museum James Heffernan argues that ekphrasis stages a battle for mastery between the image and the word Moving from the epics of Homer Virgil and Dante to contemporary American poetry this book treats the history of struggle between rival systems of representation Readable and well illustrated this study of how poets have represented painting and sculpture is a major contribution to our understanding of the relation between the arts

Titian's Portraits through Aretino's Lens, 1995

Painting with Words, Writing with Pictures Franco Ricci, 2001-01-01 Ricci's book ranges widely over Calvino's oeuvre to illustrate the accuracy of the idea articulated by Calvino himself that a visual image lies at the origin of all his narrative The book's main theme is the difficult interface between word and image that Calvino struggled with throughout his career the act of perception that rendered visible that which was invisible and transformed what was seen into what is read Ricci holds that Calvino's narrative has an imagocentric program and that his literary strategy is ekphrastic i.e. it is characterized by literary description of visual representation real or imaginary The book is interdisciplinary in nature and will interest not only scholars of literature but also those who work with the visual arts and with information technology

The Pleasures of Life Sir John Lubbock, 1907

Classics and Interpretations Ching-I Tu, 2017-11-30

In recent years in the West scholars have attempted to unravel old constructs of interpretation and understanding using the discipline of hermeneutics or the scientific study of textual interpretation Borrowed from students of the ever growing body of biblical interpretive literature that originated in the early Christian era theoretical hermeneutics has given many contemporary scholars potent tools of textual interpretation Classics and Interpretations applies this method to Chinese culture Several essays focus on hermeneutic traditions of Neo Confucianism Others move outside of these traditions to attempt an understanding of the role of hermeneutics in Taoist and Buddhist textual interpretation in Chinese poetics and painting and in contemporary Chinese culture This volume makes a concerted effort to remedy our ignorance of the Chinese hermeneutical tradition

Part 1 The Great Learning and Hermeneutics demonstrates the use of commentary to define how the individual creates his social self and discusses differing interpretations of the Ta hsueh text and its treatment as either canonical or heterodox

Part 2 Canonicity and Orthodoxy considers the philosophical touchstones employed by Neo Confucian canonical exegetes and polemicists and discusses the Han canonization of the scriptural Five Classics while illuminating a double standard that existed in the hermeneutical regime of late imperial China

Part 3 Hermeneutics as Politics discusses the transformation of both the classics and scholars and explores the dominant hermeneutic tradition in Chinese historiography the scriptural tradition and reinterpretation of the Ch un ch iu and reveals the pragmatism of Chinese hermeneutics through comparison of the Sung debates over the Mencius

The concluding sections include essays on Chu Hsi and Interpretation of Chinese Classics Hermeneutic Traditions in Chinese Poetics and Non Confucian Contexts Reinterpretation of Confucian Texts in the Ming Ching Period and Contemporary Interpretations of Confucian Culture

Through these literate and brilliantly written essays the reader witnesses not merely the great breadth and depth of Chinese hermeneutics but also its continuity and evolutionary vigor This volume will excite scholars of the Confucian Buddhist and Taoist systems of thought and belief as well as students of history and hermeneutics

Shakespeare's Tragic Art Rhodri Lewis, 2024-10-08

A new account of Shakespearean tragedy as a response to life in an uncertain world

In Shakespeare's Tragic Art Rhodri Lewis offers a powerfully original reassessment of tragedy as Shakespeare wrote it of what drew him toward tragic drama what makes his tragedies distinctive and why they matter

After reconstructing tragic theory and practice as Shakespeare and his contemporaries knew them Lewis considers in detail each of Shakespeare's tragedies from Titus Andronicus to Coriolanus

He argues that these plays are a series of experiments whose greatness lies in their author's nerve straining determination to represent the experience of living in a world that eludes rational analysis

They explore not just our inability to know ourselves as we would like to but the compensatory and generally unacknowledged fictions to which we bind ourselves in our hunger for meaning from the political philosophical social and religious to the racial sexual personal and familial

Lewis's Shakespeare not only creates tragedies that exceed those written before them Through his art he also affirms and invigorates the kinds of knowing that are available to intelligent animals like us A major reevaluation of Shakespeare s tragedies Shakespeare s Tragic Art is essential reading for anyone interested in Shakespeare tragedy or the capacity of literature to help us navigate the perplexities of the human condition

Finding the Figure in the Carpet Lee McKay Johnson,2006-12-05 In his 1896 short story The Figure in the Carpet James sets forth a riddle for his critical readers as he approaches the major phase in his career He imagines a fictional novelist Hugh Vereker who tantalizes his critics with the idea of a single thread a design woven throughout all of his major works hidden in plain sight The design Vereker says is as obvious as a foot stuck in a shoe but the distinguished novelist is convinced no one will ever see it One critic Corvick however during a trip to India has an astonishing flash of revelation he sees the figure and the discovery is immense When Corvick returns and shares his epiphany with Vereker the novelist assures him that his discovery is precisely accurate there is not a single wrong note But Corvick dies in a road accident before he can write his definitive book on Verekers secret design My study will show the reader that there is a distinct figure in the carpet in the works of Henry James himself But James only uses the figure in a select group of his major novels and tales all six of which we will examine here These major works are all experimental and radical and show James allowing himself the artistic freedom to follow his own arcane and personal path The pattern is fully manifested in The Turn of the Screw in 1897 and remains the consistent thread all the way through the Masters final completed novel The Golden Bowl in 1904 I began writing about the relation of writing to painting and how James translates structural aspects of the silent art of painting into prose James borrows both silence and simultaneity from the painter his brother of the brush and experiments with their narrative equivalents I saw with increasing clarity that James admiration of the powers of painting led him into depicting nonverbal aspects of consciousness in language Finally I saw the whole system lock into place everything fit The figure in the carpet was revealed as visible silence With only a minute adjustment of focus I suddenly saw that James narrative pictorial structure that I had been tracing all these years constitutes the figure in the carpet itself The pictorial pattern literally governs every line and chooses every word James brings the reader into the full consciousness of his character by taking us into the silent radiation of the visible As readers we experience the silence before language the silence between words and the silence after language In this book I will show my reader how the figure in the carpet operates as the controlling design in every square inch of text in each of James most famous novels and tales

Russian Realisms Molly Brunson,2016-09-10 One fall evening in 1880 Russian painter Ilya Repin welcomed an unexpected visitor to his home Lev Tolstoy The renowned realists talked for hours and Tolstoy turned his critical eye to the sketches in Repin s studio Tolstoy s criticisms would later prompt Repin to reflect on the question of creative expression and conclude that the path to artistic truth is relative dependent on the mode and medium of representation In this original study Molly Brunson traces many such paths that converged to form the tradition of nineteenth century Russian realism a tradition that spanned almost half a century from the youthful projects of the Natural School and the critical realism of the age of reform to the mature masterpieces of Tolstoy Fyodor Dostoevsky and the paintings of the Wanderers Repin chief among them By examining the classics of the tradition Brunson explores the emergence of multiple realisms from the gaps disruptions and doubts that accompany the self conscious project of representing reality These manifestations of realism are united not by how they look or what they describe but by their shared awareness of the fraught yet critical task of representation By tracing the engagement of literature and painting with aesthetic debates on the sister arts Brunson argues for a conceptualization of realism that transcends artistic media Russian Realisms integrates the lesser known tradition of Russian painting with the familiar masterpieces of Russia s great novelists highlighting both the common ground in their struggles for artistic realism and their cultural autonomy and legitimacy This erudite study will appeal to scholars interested in Russian literature and art comparative literature art history and nineteenth century realist movements

The Culture of the Body Dalia

Judovitz, 2011-05-06 What is the body How was it culturally constructed conceived and cultivated before and after the advent of rationalism and modern science This interdisciplinary study elaborates a cultural genealogy of the body and its legacies to modernity by tracing its crucial redefinition from a live anatomical entity to disembodied mechanical and virtual analogs The study ranges from Baroque pre Cartesian interpretations of body and embodiment to the Cartesian elaboration of ontological difference and mind body dualism and it concludes with the parodic and violent aftermath of this legacy to the French Enlightenment It engages work by philosophical authors such as Montaigne Descartes and La Mettrie as well as literary works by d Urf Corneille and the Marquis de Sade The examination of sexuality and the emergence of sexual difference as a dominant mode of embodiment are central to the book s overall design The work is informed by philosophical accounts of the body Nietzsche Foucault Merleau Ponty by feminist theory Butler Irigaray Bordo as well as by literary and cultural historians Scarry Stewart Bynum etc and historians of science Canguilhem Pagel and Temkin among others It will appeal to scholars of literature philosophy French studies critical theory feminist theory cultural historians and historians of science and technology Dalia Judovitz is Professor of French Emory University She is also author of Unpacking Duchamp Art in Transit and Subjectivity and Representation in Decartes The Origins of Modernity

Rhetorics of Display Lawrence J. Prelli, 2021-12-24 Groundbreaking case studies mapping the rhetoric inherent in acts of presentation and concealment Rhetorics of Display is a pathbreaking volume that brings together a distinguished group of scholars to assess an increasingly pervasive form of rhetorical activity Editor Lawrence J Prelli notes in his introduction that twenty first century citizens continually confront displays of information and images from the verbal images of speeches and literature to visual images of film and photography to exhibits in museums to the arrangement of our homes to the merchandising of consumer goods The volume provides an integrated comprehensive study of the processes of selecting what to reveal and what to conceal that together constitute the rhetorics of display Surveying major historical transformations in the relationship between rhetoric and display this book also identifies the leading themes in relevant scholarship of the past three decades Seventeen case studies canvass a representative and diverse range of displays from body piercing to a civil rights memorial to a Titanic exhibition to imagery found in gambling casinos and examine the ways that phenomena persons places events identities communities and cultures are exhibited before audiences Collectively the contributors shed light on rhetorics that are nearly ubiquitous in contemporary communication and culture

Shakespeare and the Visual Arts Michele Marrapodi, 2017-02-17 Drawing on the poetics of intertextuality and profiting from the more recent concepts of cultural mobility and permeability between cultures in the early modern period this volume's tripartite structure considers the relationship between Renaissance material arts theatre and emblems as an integrated and intermedial genre explores the use and function of Italian visual culture in Shakespeare's oeuvre and questions the appropriation of the arts in the production of the drama of Shakespeare and his contemporaries An afterword a rich bibliography of primary and secondary literature and a detailed Index round off the volume

Patterns and Patterning Bart Westerweel, 2021-11-15

Making Sense Ralf Hertel, 2021-07-26 Fiction is fascinating All it provides us with is black letters on white pages yet while we read we do not have the impression that we are merely perceiving abstract characters Instead we see the protagonists before our inner eye and hear their voices Descriptions of sumptuous meals make our mouths water we feel physically repelled by depictions of violence or are aroused by the erotic details of sexual conquests We submerge ourselves in the fictional world that no longer stays on the paper but comes to life in our imagination Reading turns into an out of the body experience or rather an in another body experience for we perceive the portrayed world not only through the protagonist's eyes but also through his ears nose tongue and skin In other words we move through the literary text as if through a virtual reality How does literature achieve this trick How does it turn mere letters into vividly experienced worlds This study argues that techniques of sensuous writing contribute decisively to bringing the text to life in the reader's imagination. In detailed interpretations of British novels of the 1980s and 1990s by writers such as John Berger, John Banville, Salman Rushdie, Jeanette Winterson, or J. M. Coetzee, it uncovers literary strategies for turning the sensuous experience into words and for conveying it to the reader, demonstrating how we make sense in and of literature. Both readers interested in the contemporary novel and in the sensuousness of the reading experience will profit from this innovative study that not only analyses the interest of contemporary authors in the senses but also pinpoints literary entry points for the sensuous force of reading. The Athenaeum, 1884. A Companion to Literary Theory David H. Richter, 2018-02-16. Introduces readers to the modes of literary and cultural study of the previous half century. A Companion to Literary Theory is a collection of 36 original essays, all by noted scholars in their field, designed to introduce the modes and ideas of contemporary literary and cultural theory. Arranged by topic rather than chronology in order to highlight the relationships between earlier and most recent theoretical developments, the book groups its chapters into seven convenient sections: I Literary Form: Narrative and Poetry; II The Task of Reading; III Literary Locations and Cultural Studies; IV The Politics of Literature; V Identities; VI Bodies and Their Minds; and VII Scientific Inflections. Allotting proper space to all areas of theory most relevant today, this comprehensive volume features three dozen masterfully written chapters covering such subjects as Anglo-American New Criticism, Chicago Formalism, Russian Formalism, Derrida and Deconstruction, Empathy, Affect Studies, Foucault and Poststructuralism, Marx and Marxist Literary Theory, Postcolonial Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender Theory, Freudian Psychoanalytic Criticism, Cognitive Literary Theory, Evolutionary Literary Theory, Cybernetics, and Posthumanism, and much more. Features 36 essays by noted scholars in the field. Fills a growing need for companion books that can guide readers through the thicket of ideas, systems, and terminologies. Presents important contemporary literary theory while examining those of the past. The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Literary Theory will be welcomed by college and university students seeking an accessible and authoritative guide to the complex and often intimidating modes of literary and cultural study of the previous half century. Handbook of Intermediality Gabriele Rippl, 2015-07-24. This handbook offers students and researchers compact orientation in their study of intermedial phenomena in Anglophone literary texts and cultures by introducing them to current academic debates, theoretical concepts, and methodologies. By combining theory with text analysis and contextual anchoring, it introduces students and scholars alike to a vast field of research which encompasses concepts such as intermediality, multi- and plurimediality, intermedial reference, transmediality, ekphrasis, as well as related concepts such as visual culture, remediation, adaptation, and multimodality, which are all discussed in connection with literary examples. Hence, each of the 30 contributions spans both a theoretical approach and concrete analysis of literary texts from different centuries and different Anglophone cultures.
