Johann Sebastian Bach Johann Nikolaus Forkel,1970 Bach C. F. Abdy Williams,2015-06-26 Excerpt from Bach The position of Johann Sebastian Bach as one of a numerous family of musicians is unique Of no other composer can it be said that his forefathers contemporary relations and descendants were all musicians and not only musicians but holders of very important offices as such All his biographers have therefore given some account of his family antecedents before proceeding to the history of his life and I have found myself obliged to follow the same course In other respects I have adopted the plan made use of by the older biographers of keeping the account of his life distinct from that of his compositions Every biography is necessarily based on that written by his two sons four years after his death published by Mizler and the one published in 1802 by Forkel who was intimate with the sons Hilgenfeldt s account follows these and in later years further information has been acquired from the searches into archives and other ancient documents by C H Bitter and Philipp Spitta Any details concerning the life and works of this remarkable man are interesting and it is probable that researches will be continued for some time to come About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
