tech's relentless focus on optimization is driving a future that reinforces discrimination erodes privacy displaces workers and pollutes the information we get This optimization mindset substitutes what companies care about for the values that we as a democratic society might choose to prioritize Well intentioned optimizers fail to measure all that is meaningful and when their creative disruptions achieve great scale they impose their values upon the rest of us Armed with an understanding of how technologists think and exercise their power three Stanford professors a philosopher working at the intersection of tech and ethics a political scientist who served under Obama and the director of the undergraduate Computer Science program at Stanford also an early Google engineer reveal how we can hold that power to account Troubled by the values that permeate the university's student body and its culture they worked together to chart a new path forward creating a popular course to transform how tomorrow's technologists approach their profession Now as the dominance of big tech becomes an explosive societal conundrum they share their provocative insights and concrete solutions to help everyone understand what is happening what is at stake and what we can do to control technology instead of letting it control us TV Guide ,2004
