greeting card executive acquired California's Orange County Register in July 2012 and then pursued an audacious agenda expanding coverage and hiring journalists in an era when nearly all other newspaper owners were trying to avoid cutting both. The newspaper business is at a perilous crossroads. This essential book explains why and how today's new crop of media moguls might help it to survive.

We Now Return to Regular Life Martin Wilson, 2017-08-01

The Face on the Milk Carton meets The Impossible Knife of Memory in this ripped from the headlines novel that explores the power of being an ally and a friend when a kidnapped boy returns to his hometown. Sam Walsh had been missing for three years. His older sister Beth thought he was dead. His childhood friend Josh thought it was all his fault. They were the last two people to see him alive. Until now. Because Sam has been found and he's coming home. Beth desperately wants to understand what happened to her brother, but her family refuses to talk about it, even though Sam is clearly still affected by the abuse he faced at the hands of his captor. And as Sam starts to confide in Josh about his past, Josh can't admit the truths he's hidden deep within himself: that he's gay and developing feelings for Sam. And even bigger: that he never told the police everything he saw the day Sam disappeared. As Beth and Josh struggle with their own issues, their friends and neighbors slowly turn on Sam until one night when everything explodes. Beth can't live in silence, Josh can't live with his secrets, and Sam can't continue on until the whole truth of what happened to him is out in the open. For fans of thought-provoking stories like The Face on the Milk Carton, this is a book about learning to be an ally even when the community around you doesn't want you to be.

Science in the City Bryan A. Brown,2021-02-17 2021 Outstanding Book Award American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education AACTE Science in the City examines how language and culture matter for effective science teaching Author Bryan A Brown argues that given the realities of our multilingual and multicultural society teachers must truly understand how issues of culture intersect with the fundamental principles of learning This book links an exploration of contemporary research on urban science teaching to a more generative instructional approach in which students develop mastery by discussing science in culturally meaningful ways The book starts with a trenchant analysis of the black tax a double standard at work in science language and classrooms that forces students of color to appropriate and express their science knowledge solely in ways that accord with the dominant culture and knowledge regime Because we are in an interactive multimedia world the author also posits the necessity of applying what is known about best practices in science teaching to best practices in technology The book then turns to instruction illustrating how science education can flourish if it is connected to students backgrounds identities language and culture In this empowered and inclusive form of science classroom the role of narrative is key educators use stories and anecdotes to induct students into the realm of scientific thinking introduce big ideas in easy familiar terms and prioritize explanation over mastery of symbolic systems The result is a classroom that showcases how the use of more familiar culturally relevant modes of communication can pave the way for improved science learning A Return to Self

Aatish Taseer,2025-07-15 A blend of travelog and memoir spanning from Turkey to Mexico exploring Aatish Taseer s uniquely blended identity and asking Why do certain cities become epicenters of great historical shifts and sites of unpredictable communities In 2019 the government of Prime Minister Narendra Modi revoked Aatish Taseer s Indian citizenship thereby exiling him from the country where he grew up and lived for thirty years This loss both practical and spiritual sent him on a journey of revisiting the places that formed his identity and asking broader questions about the complex forces that make a culture and a nationality in the process In Istanbul he confronts the hopes and ambitions of his former self In Uzbekistan he sees how what was once the majestic portal of the Silk Road is now a tourist facade In India he explores why Buddhism which originated there is so little practiced Everywhere he goes the ancient world mixes intimately with the contemporary with the influences of the pandemic the rise of new food cultures and the ongoing cultural battles of regions around the world How do centuries of cultures evolving and overlapping often violently shape the people that subsequently emerge from them In thoughtful prose that combines reportage with romanticism Taseer casts an incisive eye at what it means to belong to a place that becomes an unstable politicized vessel for ideas defined by exclusion and prejudice and gets to the human heart of the shifts and migrations that define our multicultural world The Future of Competition C.

K. Prahalad,Venkat Ramaswamy,2004-02-18 In this visionary book C K Prahalad and Venkat Ramaswamy explore why despite unbounded opportunities for innovation companies still can t satisfy customers and sustain profitable growth The explanation for this apparent paradox lies in recognizing the structural changes brought about by the convergence of industries and technologies ubiquitous connectivity and globalization and as a consequence the evolving role of the consumer from passive recipient to active co creator of value Managers need a new framework for value creation Increasingly individual customers interact with a network of firms and consumer communities to co create value No longer can firms autonomously create value Neither is value embedded in products and services per se Products are but an artifact around which compelling individual experiences are created As a result the focus of innovation will shift from products and services to experience environments that individuals can interact with to co construct their own experiences These personalized co creation experiences are the source of unique value for consumers and companies alike In this emerging opportunity space companies must build new strategic capital a new theory on how to compete This book presents a detailed view of the new functional organizational infrastructure and governance capabilities that will be required for competing on experiences and co creating
