LEARNING GENRES FANTASY

The fantasy genre is a type of fiction. Fantasy stories are set in a world that is not real. They are full of magic, dragons, wizards, and other things that do not exist in our world. They can also have a lot of action and adventure. Fantasy stories are often written for children, but they can also be written for adults. They are a fun way to escape from reality and imagine a world where anything is possible.

U.S. KIDS' LITERATURE: A Brief History writes the first contemporary children's literature and the U.S. KIDS' LITERATURE series.

"The whole idea of fantasy," said Lewis, "is that through the magic of the imagination, we can escape from the real world and enter a world where anything is possible. It is a world where we can be heroes, where we can be wizards, where we can be dragons. It is a world where we can be anything we want to be."

—The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe (C.S. Lewis)

Write notes on the events and characters of the genre that you are in fantasy.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

by L. Frank Baum

"There has been nothing wrong," said the Wizard, "but you have been so busy with your own problems that you have not noticed the danger that is coming. You are in a very dangerous place, and you must get out of here as soon as you can."

"You are a very brave man," said the Wizard, "and you are a very kind man. But you are a very foolish man. You are a very foolish man because you are so busy with your own problems that you have not noticed the danger that is coming. You are in a very dangerous place, and you must get out of here as soon as you can."

These are the events of the story. The events of the story are the things that happen in the story. The events of the story are the things that happen in the story. The events of the story are the things that happen in the story.
