A radical reinterpretation of Attica the revolutionary 1970s uprising that galvanized abolitionist movements and transformed prisons Tip of the Spear boldly and compellingly argues that prisons are a domain of hidden warfare within US borders With this book Orisanmi Burton explores what he terms the Long Attica Revolt a criminalized tradition of Black radicalism that propelled rebellions in New York prisons during the 1970s The reaction to this revolt illuminates what Burton calls prison pacification the coordinated tactics of violence isolation sexual terror propaganda reform and white supremacist science and technology that state actors use to eliminate Black resistance within and beyond prison walls Burton goes beyond the state records that other histories have relied on for the story of Attica and expands that archive drawing on oral history and applying Black radical theory in ways that center the intellectual and political goals of the incarcerated people who led the struggle Packed with little known insights from the prison movement the Black Panther Party and the Black Liberation Army Tip of the Spear promises to transform our understanding of prisons not only as sites of race war and class war of counterinsurgency and genocide but also as sources of defiant Black life revolutionary consciousness and abolitionist possibility Action Research S. Choice in the Context of a Changing World Winnie Bell,Christine Blake,Shauna Downs,2025-08-06 Historically research in low and middle income countries has been focused on what people consume with less attention to how and why people choose to consume the foods that they do As incomes rise and local food environments undergo rapid changes providing consumers with a wider array of options at competitive prices understanding the underlying drivers of food choice including the preferences and values that underpin them has become increasingly important In recent years there have been renewed efforts to understand the drivers of food choice in the context of changing food environments and broader food system and how these drivers link with food consumption The goal of this Research Topic is to look beyond dietary consumption what people eat by considering more holistically the various drivers of food choice how and why people eat the foods they do to better understand what underpins individual decisions Ultimately by understanding why people make the choices they do especially when situated in the local food environment and or broader food system we can identify important entry points for behavior change interventions develop a better understanding about the role of food safety in food choice decisions improve the environment climate and food systems through improved knowledge on the drivers of food choice and learn about how changing livelihoods shifts dynamics related to food choice amongst other important research tied to drivers of food choice
