approach to a more quantitative and formal understanding of such systems and finally 3 a construction method for the practitioner who wants to build such systems In this book we first try to convey to the reader a feeling of the special character of natural and technical self organising and adaptive systems through a large number of illustrative examples Then we discuss quantitative aspects of such forms of organisation and finally we turn to methods of how to build such systems for practical applications

Regulating Convergence Susan J. Drucker, Gary Gumpert, 2010 Traditionally the technologies of telecommunications broadcasting satellite and computing operated independently while the industries associated with each were regulated independently along the same lines Technological convergence challenges the vertical regulatory models of broadcasting telecommunications and computer services while simultaneously challenging the traditional approach to regulation by nation states It is time for a critical examination of regulations which support convergence while addressing the realities of the current media environment This edited volume provides a heuristic analysis of the challenges facing regulators and media institutions Chapters explore the nature of the laws and regulations straining under the new technological realities consider the changes already made to accommodate the new media landscape and examine new directions and approaches to the regulation of convergent media technologies and media institutions
