Harnessing the Power of Technology to Improve Lives Luc de Witte,2017-09-15 The lives of people with disabilities are complex and various and there are many situations where technology particularly assistive technology already makes a real difference. It is clear that smart phone and tablet computer based solutions continue to enhance the independence of many users but it is also important that more traditional assistive technologies and services are not forgotten or neglected. This book presents the proceedings of the 14th conference of the Association for the Advancement of Assistive Technology in Europe AAATE 2017 entitled Harnessing the power of technology to improve lives held in Sheffield UK in September 2017. This 4 day event about assistive technologies AT highlights the association's interest in innovating not only technology but also services and addresses the global challenge of meeting the needs of the increasing number of people who could benefit from assistive technology. The 200 papers in the book are grouped under 30 subject headings and include contributions on a wide range of topical subjects including aging well and dementia care robotics eHealth and apps innovations universal design sport and disordered speech. The breadth of the AAATE conference reflects people's life needs and so the book is sure to contain something of interest to all those whose work involves the design development and use of assistive technology whatever the situation. The photo on the front cover illustrates the breadth of assistive technologies that can improve lives.

Photographer Simon Butler Social and Dialogic Thinking and Learning in Special Education Karen A. Erickson, Charna D'Ardenne, Nitasha M. Clark, David A. Koppenhaver, George W. Noblit, 2021-12-28

Drawing on a three year post critical ethnography this volume counters deficit based notions of disability to present a new social and dialogic theory of thinking and learning for students with significant support needs. Dismantling ideas around ableism disableism Social and Dialogic Thinking and Learning offers a uniquely theoretical and conceptual contribution to special education and capability research. Illustrating how students exhibit varied practical social and creative abilities possess agency and perform identity chapters present a challenge to the restrictive ways in which disability is constructed through prescriptive forms of teacher student interaction and instruction. The text ultimately offers a powerful re imagining of how educators and researchers can perceive observe and respond to students beyond current institutional and cultural norms. This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in inclusion and special educational needs disability studies and the theories of learning more broadly. Those specifically interested in educational psychology and the study of severe profound and multiple learning difficulties will also benefit from this book.
