Cybermedia Carol Vernallis, Holly Rogers, Jonathan Leal, Selmin Kara, 2021-10-21 We are experiencing a time when digital technologies and advances in artificial intelligence, robotics, and big data are redefining what it means to be human. How do these advancements affect contemporary media and music? This collection traces how media with a focus on sound and image engages with these new technologies. It bridges the gap between science and the humanities by pairing humanists' close readings of contemporary media with scientists' discussions of the science and math that inform them. This text includes contributions by established and emerging scholars performing across the aisle research on new technologies exploring topics such as facial and gait recognition, EEG, and audiovisual materials, surveillance, and sound and images in relation to questions of sexual identity, race, ethnicity, disability, and class, and includes examples from a range of films and TV shows including Blade Runner, Black Mirror, Mr. Robot, Morgan, Ex Machina, and Westworld. Through a variety of critical, theoretical, proprioceptive, and speculative lenses, the collection facilitates interdisciplinary thinking and collaboration and provides readers with ways of responding to these new technologies. PCStation CG, 2020-08-09 Remembering the Future through Cinematic Symbols Amar Singh, 2024-12-15 This book explores the making of futuristic memory through cinematic symbols relating to future relationships between humans and artificial intelligence. AI. Amar Singh examines how audiences are being prepared for possible future scenarios where they may find themselves entangled with intelligent objects through developing relationships with them and if so how they might react when confronted by an intelligent species. Through this research, Singh focuses on both the complications and flaws of science fiction depictions of AI as well as more abstract works that while not directly connected contribute to a better understanding of these emerging technologies. Scholars of film, media, memory, posthuman, transhuman, and cultural studies will find particular value in this book along with those focusing on literary and critical theory, arts and aesthetics, political sociology, and advanced research in AI. Strategic
