Student Loan Repayment Nfl Schedule 2025:

The Economic Impact of Intercollegiate Athletics on Former Students Richard J. Cebula, Robert N. Fenili, James V. Koch, 2025-10-30 College graduates do not benefit economically from the intercollegiate athletic programs of their alma mater Students provide substantial funding for their institution s intercollegiate athletic programs via tuition and fees In fact a typical student is required to pay for such activities Will this financial burden paid for during undergraduate years help them in the real world Whether measuring the incomes earned by alumni their upward economic mobility or their record in paying off federal student loans there is no subsequent economic payoff to graduates of institutions that spend large sums of money on athletic programs And in all actuality evidence suggests that graduates of campuses with FBS big time football programs end up earning less than graduates of comparable non FBS institutions The statistical analysis provided in this book is derived from a sample of almost 700 four year institutions between 2004 and 2022 The authors present the information and provide analysis focusing on five different measures of economic success the alumni for example the incomes alumni earn after graduating The book uses this data to explain that there is either no definitive positive connection and in fact there might be a negative relationship between intercollegiate athletic programs and the economic success of their alumni

Poets Square Courtney Gustafson, 2025-04-29 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER An intimate memoir about the importance of community and care in a world that can feel impossibly broken and a story about accidentally going viral while tending to a colony of feral cats When Courtney Gustafson moved into a rental house in the Poets Square neighborhood of Tucson Arizona she didn't know that the property came with thirty feral cats Focused only on her own survival in a new relationship during a pandemic with poor mental health and a job that didn't pay enough Courtney was reluctant to spend any of her own time or money caring for the wayward animals But the cats their pleading eyes their ribs showing the new kittens born in the driveway didn't give her a choice She had no idea about the grief and hardship of animal rescue the staggering size of the problem in neighborhoods across the country And she couldn't have imagined how that struggle toward an ethics of care of individuals trying their best amid spectacularly failing systems would help pierce a personal darkness she'd wrestled with for much of her life She also didn't expect that the TikTok and Instagram accounts she created to share the quirky personalities of the wild but lovable cats like Monkey Goldie Francois and Sad Boy would end up saving her home Courtney writes toward a vision of connectedness showing how taking care of the cats reshaped her understanding of empathy resilience and the healing power of wholly showing up for something outside yourself She takes us from the dark alleys where she feeds feral cats to inside the tragically neglected homes where she climbs over piles of trash and occasionally animals and then into her own driveway with the cats she loves and must sometimes let go Compelling and tender Poets Square is as much about cats as it is about the urgency of care community and a little bit of dumb hope
