

The background of the slide is a traditional East Asian ink wash painting. It depicts a person, possibly a scholar or a monk, seated in a landscape. The person is wearing a long, flowing robe and is positioned in the center of the frame. They are surrounded by several large, gnarled pine trees with dense, dark foliage. The overall style is characteristic of traditional Chinese or Japanese ink painting, with a focus on naturalistic detail and a sense of tranquility. The colors are muted, with earthy tones and dark greens.

Perceiving Reality Consciousness Intentionality And Cognition In Buddhist Philosophy:

Perceiving Reality Christian Coseru, 2015 Perceiving Reality examines the epistemic function of perception and the relation between language and conceptual thought and provides new ways of conceptualizing the Buddhist defense of the reflexivity thesis of consciousness namely that each cognitive event is to be understood as involving a pre reflective implicit awareness of its own occurrence

The Oxford Handbook of Phenomenological Psychopathology Giovanni Stanghellini, Matthew Broome, Anthony Vincent Fernandez, Paolo Fusar-Poli, Andrea Raballo, René Rosfort, 2019-07-04 The field of phenomenological psychopathology PP is concerned with exploring and describing the individual experience of those suffering from mental disorders Whilst there is often an understandable emphasis within psychiatry on diagnosis and treatment the subjective experience of the individual is frequently overlooked Yet a patient's own account of how their illness affects their thoughts values consciousness and sense of self can provide important insights into their condition insights that can complement the more empirical findings from studies of brain function or behaviour The Oxford Handbook of Phenomenological Psychopathology is the first ever comprehensive review of the field It considers the history of PP its methodology key concepts and includes a section exploring individual experiences within schizophrenia depression borderline personality disorder OCD and phobia In addition it includes chapters on some of the leading figures throughout the history of this field Bringing together chapters from a global team of leading academics researchers and practitioners the book will be valuable for those within the fields of psychiatry clinical psychology and philosophy

Intentional Transformative Experiences Sarah Perez, Bastiaan van Rijn, Jens Schlieter, 2024-09-23 This book offers new theoretical insights into religious esoteric and philosophical practices and narratives that deal with intentional transformative experiences Exceptional life changing experiences are often believed to be beyond the individual's control they are thought to simply happen However many individuals actively and self reflectively search for transformative experiences Intentional Transformative Experiences provides analyses of such intentionally sought experiences in different spiritual religious and esoteric milieus Case studies range from South and Central Asian traditions to Western esoteric practices compare autobiographical narratives of self cultivation and explore attempts to systematize intentional transformative experiences Next to applying established theoretical frameworks such as the cognitive science of religion and philosophy this volume also includes considerations on subsets of transformative experiences such as the dichotomy of intentionality and unintentionality risk and failure as well as the transformation of others instead of one's own self The result is an important contribution for researchers who deal with narratives or practices that include transformative experiences

Reasons and Empty Persons: Mind, Metaphysics, and Morality Christian Coseru, 2023-02-22 Best known for his groundbreaking and influential work in Buddhist philosophy Mark Siderits is the pioneer of fusion or confluence philosophy a boldly systematic approach to doing philosophy premised on the idea that rational reconstruction of positions in one tradition in light of another can sometimes help address perennial problems and often lead to new and valuable insights Exemplifying the many virtues of the confluence approach this collection of essays covers all core areas of Buddhist philosophy as well as topics and disputes in contemporary Western philosophy relevant to its study They consider in particular the ways in which questions concerning personal identity figure in debates about agency cognition causality ontological foundations foundational truths and moral cultivation Most of these essays engage Siderits work directly building on his pathbreaking ideas and interpretations Many deal with issues that have become a common staple in philosophical engagements with traditions outside the West Their variety and breadth bear testimony to the legacy of Siderits impact in shaping the contemporary conversation in Buddhist philosophy and its reverberations in mainstream philosophy giving readers a clear sense of the remarkable scope of his work

The ^AMoon Points Back Koji Tanaka, Yasuo Deguchi, Jay L. Garfield, Graham Priest, 2015-07-01 The Moon Points Back investigates central areas of Buddhist philosophy most importantly the notion of emptiness sunyata using the techniques of contemporary analytic philosophy and logic The volume s approach allows for novel understandings and insights of these areas showing how Buddhist philosophers can engage with debates in contemporary Western philosophy

Buddhist Philosophy of Consciousness Mark Siderits, Ching Keng, John Spackman, 2020-11-16 Buddhist Philosophy of Consciousness brings Buddhist voices to the study of consciousness This book explores a variety of different Buddhist approaches to consciousness that developed out of the Buddhist theory of non self Topics taken up in these investigations include how we are able to cognize our own cognitions whether all conscious states involve conceptualization whether distinct forms of cognition can operate simultaneously in a single mental stream whether non existent entities can serve as intentional objects and does consciousness have an intrinsic nature or can it only be characterized functionally These questions have all featured in recent debates in consciousness studies The answers that Buddhist philosophers developed to such questions are worth examining just because they may represent novel approaches to questions about consciousness

The Buddhist Theory of Self-Cognition Zhihua Yao, 2012-09-10 This highly original work explores the concept of self awareness or self consciousness in Buddhist thought Its central thesis is that the Buddhist theory of self cognition originated in a soteriological discussion of omniscience among the Mahasamghikas and then evolved into a topic of epistemological inquiry among the Yogacarins To illustrate this central theme this book explores a large body of primary sources in Chinese Pali Sanskrit and Tibetan most of which are presented to an English readership for the first time It makes available important resources for the study of the Buddhist philosophy of mind

Reflections on Reality Jeffrey Hopkins, 2007-01-01 This is the second volume in Jeffrey Hopkins valuable series on the Mind Only School of Buddhism and a focal description of it in Dzong Ka ba s The Essence of Eloquence Dzong Ka ba 1357 1419 is generally regarded as one of the greatest Tibetan philosophers and his Mind Only discourse on emptiness is considered a landmark in Buddhist philosophy In Volume I Emptiness in the Mind Only School of Buddhism Hopkins provided a translation of the introduction and the section on the Mind Only School in The Essence of Eloquence The present volume places this enigmatic and influential exposition in its historical and philosophical contexts Reflections on Reality conveys the intellectual vibrancy of the different cultural interpretations of this text and expands the key philosophical issues it addresses Hopkins one of the leading scholarly voices in Tibetan studies begins this volume with two introductory chapters contextualizing Tibetan scholarship in general He then goes on to discuss in detail the religious significance of the central topic of the three natures in the Mind Only School He also considers various views on the status of reality including the doctrine of other emptiness promulgated by the fourteenth century Jo nang savant Shay rap gyel tsen Presenting accurate and insightful translations of a large amount of material that has never been available in English before he shows how these topics have been debated among scholars in Tibet over six centuries Comparing these with presentations in Europe Japan and the United States today he created a lively conversation between normally disparate voices

Buddhist Philosophy and the Embodied Mind Matthew MacKenzie, 2022 In the last 30 years embodied embedded enactive and extended 4E accounts of mind and experience have flourished A more cosmopolitan and pluralistic approach to the philosophy of mind has also emerged drawing on analytic phenomenological pragmatist and non Western sources and traditions This is the first book to fully engage the 4E approach and Buddhist philosophy drawing on and integrating the intersection of enactivism and Buddhist thought This book deepens and extends the dialogue between Buddhist philosophy and 4E philosophy of mind and phenomenology It engages with core issues in the philosophy of mind broadly construed in and through the dialogue between Buddhism and enactivism Indian philosophers developed and defended philosophically sophisticated and phenomenologically rich accounts of mind self cognition perception embodiment and more As a work of cross cultural philosophy the book investigates the nature of mind and experience in dialogue with Indian and Western thinkers On the basis of this cross traditional dialogue the book articulates and defends a dynamic non substantialist and embodied account of experience subjectivity and self

The Two Truths in Indian Buddhism Sonam Thakchoe,2023-04-18 An insightful and illuminating survey of key insights into one of the most foundational and profound topics in Buddhist thought In this clear and exemplary approach to one of the core philosophical subjects of the Buddhist tradition Sonam Thakchoe guides readers through the range of Indian Buddhist philosophical schools and how each approaches the two truths ultimate truth and conventional truth In this presentation of philosophical systems the detailed argumentations and analyses of each school's approach to the two truths are presented to weave together the unique contributions each school brings to supporting and strengthening a Buddhist practitioner's understanding of reality The insights of the great scholars of Indian Buddhist history such as Vasubandhu Bhāvaviveka Kamalashīla Dharmakīrti Nāgārjuna and Chandrakīrti are illuminated in this volume with profound implications for the practice and views of modern practitioners and scholars The Vaibhāṣika Sautrāntika Yogācāra and Mādhyamaka schools provide a framework for a continuum of philosophical debate that is far more interrelated and internally complex than one may presume Yet we see how the schools build upon the findings of one another leading from a belief in the realism of external phenomena to the relinquishment of any commitment to realism of either external or internal realities This fascinating movement through philosophical approaches leads us to see how the conventional and ultimate dependent arising and emptiness are twin aspects of a single reality

Science and Philosophy in the Indian Buddhist Classics, Vol. 2 Thupten Jinpa,2020-11-10 The second volume in a prominent new series on Buddhism and science directed by the Dalai

Lama and previously covered by the BBC Science and Philosophy in the Indian Buddhist Classics compiles classical Buddhist explorations of the nature of our material world the human mind logic and phenomenology and puts them into context for the modern reader This ambitious four volume series a major resource for the history of ideas and especially the history of science and philosophy has been conceived by and compiled under the visionary supervision of His Holiness the Dalai Lama himself It is his view that the exploratory thinking of great Indian masters in the first millennium CE still has much that is of interest to us today whether we are Buddhist or not These volumes make those insights accessible This the second volume in the series focuses on the science of the mind Readers are first introduced to Buddhist conceptions of mind and consciousness and then led through traditional presentations of mental phenomena to reveal a Buddhist vision of the inner world with fascinating implications for the contemporary disciplines of cognitive science psychology emotion research and philosophy of mind Major topics include The distinction between sensory and conceptual processes and the pan Indian notion of mental consciousness Mental factors specific mental states such as attention mindfulness and compassion and how they relate to one another The unique tantric theory of subtle levels of consciousness their connection to the subtle energies or winds that flow through channels in the human body and what happens to each when the body and mind dissolve at the time of death The seven types of mental states and how they impact the process of perception Styles of reasoning which Buddhists understand as a valid avenue for acquiring sound knowledge In the final section the volume offers what might be called Buddhist contemplative science a presentation of the classical Buddhist understanding of the psychology behind meditation and other forms of mental training To present these specific ideas and their rationale the volume weaves together passages from the works of great Buddhist thinkers like Asanga Vasubandhu Nagarjuna Dignaga and Dharmakirti His Holiness the Dalai Lama s introduction outlines scientific and philosophical thinking in the history of the Buddhist tradition To provide additional context for Western readers each of the six major topics is introduced with an essay by John D Dunne distinguished professor of Buddhist philosophy and contemplative practice at the University of Wisconsin These essays connect the traditional material to contemporary debates and Western parallels and provide helpful suggestions for further reading

The Buddhist View of Knowledge and Reality Moti Lal Pandit, 2008 Appearance and Reality Guy Newland, 2009-08-01

When someone seeks to understand Buddhism where should that person start With the meaning of taking refuge in the three jewels With the four noble truths The Dalai Lama when asked this question suggested that for many in the West today understanding the two truths conventional truth and ultimate truth is the best place to start When the Buddha awoke from the dream we still dream he saw the ultimate reality of things just as they are There are shifting appearances and conventions the manners and traditions of the vast and diverse world and then there is the mystery of the sheer reality of things And yet we cannot find this reality anywhere else but right here Each system of Buddhist philosophy has its own way of explaining exactly what these two truths are and how they relate to one another In exploring these systems we are looking over the shoulders of Buddhist thinkers as they grapple with a basic question What is real This is not an idle intellectual exercise but a matter which cuts to the heart of our practice in life Empty Words Jay L. Garfield, 2001-12-06 This volume collects Jay Garfield's essays on Madhyamaka Yogacara Buddhist ethics and cross cultural hermeneutics The first part addresses Madhyamaka supplementing Garfield's translation of Fundamental Wisdom of the Middle Way OUP 1995 a foundational philosophical text by the Buddhist saint Nagarjuna Garfield then considers the work of philosophical rivals and sheds important light on the relation of Nagarjuna's views to other Buddhist and non Buddhist philosophical positions
