Self-Taught Chris Edwards, 2022-09-28 The American educational structure is a feudal system designed around an inefficient seat time model This structure sets students against each other in competition creates zip code inequalities and empowers an expensive and often damaging bureaucratic class of administrators Due to shortages of teachers and staff and to needless problems with curricula and testing this system is about to fall Historically when feudal systems collapse they create opportunities for new structures to emerge Technology has made it possible to develop a new educational model that connects students to their community and reduces pressure on students and teachers This new model makes it possible to deliver high quality education for all students regardless of zip code while turning students into active learners Self Taught Moving from a Seat Time Model to a Mastery Learning Model explains how this process can begin by asking just one question what would you do if you needed to learn something

The digital revolution is changing virtually every aspect of the business world. However, most attempts at the digital transformation of enterprises fail largely because of a lack of comprehensive and coherent strategy. This book takes lessons learned from the rise of the digital platform giants and explores how they can be adapted and effectively applied to established businesses, allowing them to compete within the new digital business paradigm. Offering a holistic perspective on the business and technology landscape, the book describes the megatrends, evolution, and impact of digital technologies and business models. It brings together what for many is a disjointed set of business transformation imperatives to provide a practical guide to digital success. Drawing on the authors' decades of experience in supporting transformation and innovation, the book lays out a path to a progressive iteration of business change and value realization, balancing the perspectives of revolutionary transformation and change enabling optimization.
