Jacoby, 2025-05-27 From award-winning economic historian Sanford M. Jacoby, a fascinating and important study of the labor movement and shareholder capitalism. Since the 1970s, American unions have shrunk dramatically, as has their economic clout. Labor in the Age of Finance traces the search for new sources of power, showing how unions turned financialization to their advantage. Sanford Jacoby catalogs the array of allies and finance-based tactics labor deployed to stanch membership losses in the private sector. By leveraging pension capital unions restructured corporate governance around issues like executive pay and accountability In Congress they drew on their political influence to press for corporate reforms in the wake of business scandals and the financial crisis The effort restrained imperial CEOs but could not bridge the divide between workers and owners Wages lagged behind investor returns feeding the inequality identified by Occupy Wall Street And labor's slide continued A compelling blend of history economics and politics Labor in the Age of Finance explores the paradox of capital bestowing power to labor in the tumultuous era of Enron Lehman Brothers and Dodd Frank

A Glocal Town Nicholas Tatsis, 2025-06-30 This book presents a novel theoretical and methodological approach to understanding the emerging glocal realities of sub-urban space Beginning with a study of a suburb of Athens it illustrates the dynamic interaction between the local and the global charting a range of radical social changes as this locality adapts itself to processes of globalization Moving beyond the Athenian context it shows how the various traditions of suburban enclaves interact with and confront the impact of external yet pervasive elements of the globalized world for instance through the adoption of events and practices observed in societies across the globe such as Earth Day or International Holocaust Remembrance Day or the use of the global calendar as the polis transforms into a cosmopolis With explorations of this kind A Glocal Town advances a three-stage interpretative scheme that enables us to frame glocality more broadly and better understand the global-local interaction wherever it occurs As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology geography and urban studies interested in globalization and its interaction with the local in sub urban locales

Fables and Futures George Estreich, 2025-05-27 How new biomedical technologies from prenatal testing to gene editing techniques require us to imagine who counts as human and what it means to belong From next generation prenatal tests to virtual children to the genome editing tool CRISPR Cas9 new biotechnologies grant us unprecedented power to predict and shape future people That power implies a question about belonging which people which variations will we welcome How will we square new biotech advances with the real but fragile gains for people with disabilities especially when their voices are all but absent from the conversation This book explores that conversation the troubled territory where biotechnology and disability meet In it George Estreich an award winning poet and memoirist and the father of a young woman with Down syndrome delves into popular representations of cutting edge biotech websites advertising next generation prenatal tests feature articles on three parent IVF a scientist's memoir of constructing a semisynthetic cell and more As Estreich shows each new application of biotechnology is accompanied by a persuasive story one that minimizes downsides and promises enormous benefits In this story people with disabilities are both invisible and essential a key promise of new technologies is that disability will be repaired or prevented In chapters that blend personal narrative and scholarship Estreich restores disability to our narratives of technology He also considers broader themes the place of people with disabilities in a world built for the able the echoes of eugenic history in the genomic present and the equation of intellect and human value Examining the stories we tell ourselves the fables already creating our futures Estreich argues that given biotech that can select and shape who we are we need to imagine as broadly as possible what it means to belong

China and the Internet Song Shi, 2023-12-15 China and the Internet analyzes how Chinese activists NGOs and government offices have used the Internet to fight rural malnutrition the digital divide the COVID 19 pandemic and other urgent problems affecting millions of people It presents five theoretically informed case studies of how new media have been used in interventions for development and social change including how activists battled against COVID 19

Deadwood Peter Cozzens, 2025-08-19 The true story of the Black Hills gold rush settlement once described as the most diabolical town on earth and of its most colorful cast of characters from Wild Bill Hickok to Calamity Jane to Al Swearingen and Sheriff Seth Bullock In these pungent pages you can smell the whiskey the gunsmoke the horse lather the gold dust and the mining chemicals A fine non fiction narrative that's as alluring as its subject Hampton Sides Sifting through layers and layers of myth and legend from nineteenth century dime novels like Deadwood Dick to HBO prestige dramas to the casino billboards outside of present day Deadwood Peter Cozzens unveils the true face of Deadwood South Dakota the storied mining town that sprang up in early 1876 and came raining down in ashes only three years later destined to become food for the imagination and a nostalgic landmark that now brings in more than two and a half million visitors each year That Western romance we're reminded by Cozzens the prizewinning author of The Earth Is Weeping retains its allure only as long as we willfully ignore the town's foundational sins Built on land brazenly stolen from the Lakotas Deadwood was not merely a place where outlaws lurked like Tombstone or Dodge City but was itself an outlaw enterprise not part of any U S territory or subject to U S laws or governance This gave rise to the gunslinging stagecoach robbing whiskey guzzling rampant prostitution and gambling Deadwood is known for But it also bred a self reliance and a spirit of cooperation unique on the frontier and made it an exceptionally welcoming place for Black Americans and Chinese immigrants at a time of deep seated discrimination The first book to tell this complex story in full Deadwood reveals how one frontier town came to embody the best and worst of the West a relic of humanity s eternal quest to create order from chaos a greater good from individual greed and security from violence

Presidents for Life in Sub-Saharan Africa Teresa Nogueira Pinto, 2025-11-13 Teresa Nogueira Pinto analyzes how Robert Mugabe and Paul Kagame developed narratives to legitimize and entrench their power in Rwanda and Zimbabwe From South America to Eastern Europe semi authoritarian leaders often deploy strategies of power legitimization rooted in historical legacies political institutions legal and constitutional frameworks economic conditions and shifting regional and international dynamics This framework is particularly pertinent in an era when authoritarianism is evolving and liberal democracy is facing a prolonged period of decline In Presidents for Life in Sub Saharan Africa Unpuzzling Authoritarianism in Zimbabwe and Rwanda Pinto examines how Robert Mugabe and Paul Kagame used these strategies in their personalized semi authoritarian and resilient regimes in Sub Saharan Africa as well as how their claims to legitimacy were challenged by opponents and civil society She emphasizes that these strategies are not developed in isolation but have instead emerged from leaders continuous interactions and negotiations in legal political and economic spheres Recognizing that the legitimization of power operates across different dimensions this book adopts a multidimensional approach to show how authoritarian leadership is constructed and challenged Through comparison of these two African leaders this book unveils the tactics used by authoritarian leaders to consolidate power and navigate threats to their authority
