A Filtered Life Nicole Taylor, Mimi Nichter, 2021-12-23 A Filtered Life is the first comprehensive ethnographic account to explore how college students create and manage multiple identities on social media Drawing on interviews and digital ethnographic data gleaned from popular social media platforms the authors document and make visible routinized practices that are typically hidden and operating behind the scenes They introduce the concept of digital multiples wherein students strategically present themselves differently across social media platforms This requires both the copious production of content and the calculated development of an instantly recognizable aesthetic or brand Taylor and Nichter examine key contradictions that emerged from student narratives including presenting a self that is both authentic and highly edited appearing upbeat even during emotionally difficult times and exuding body positivity even when frustrated with how you look Students struggled with this series of impossibilities yet they felt compelled to maintain a vibrant online presence With its close up portrayal of the social and embodied experiences of college students A Filtered Life is ideal for students and scholars interested in youth studies digital ethnography communication and new forms of media

We Were Girls Once Aiwanose Odafen, 2024-04-25 We were three complete as we were meant to be Ego Zina and Eriife were always destined to be best friends ever since their grandmothers sat next to each other on a dusty bus to Lagos in the late 1940s forging a bond that would last generations But over half a century later Nigeria is a new and modern country As the three young women navigate the incessant strikes and political turmoil that surrounds them their connection is shattered by a terrible assault In the aftermath nothing will remain the same as life takes them down separate paths For Ego now a high powered London lawyer success can't mask her loneliness and feelings of being an outsider Desperate to feel connected to Nigeria she escapes into a secret life online Zina's ambition is to be anyone but herself acting proves the ultimate catharsis but it comes at the cost of her family And Eriife surprises everyone by morphing from a practising doctor to a ruthless politician's perfect wife When Ego returns home the three women's lives become entwined once more as Nigeria's political landscape fractures Their shared past will always connect them but can they and their country overcome it

Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles,2023-04-25 A nuanced account from a user perspective of what it s like to live in a datafied world We live in a media saturated society that increasingly transforms our experiences relations and identities into data others can analyze and monetize Algorithms are key to this process surveilling our most mundane practices and to many their control over our lives seems absolute In Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles critically challenges this view by surveying user dynamics in the global south across three algorithmic platforms Netflix Spotify and TikTok and finds surprisingly a more balanced relationship Drawing on a wealth of empirical evidence that privileges the user over the corporate Siles examines the personal relationships that have formed between users and algorithms as Latin Americans have integrated these systems into the structures of everyday life enacted them ritually participated in public with and through them and thwarted them Sometimes users follow algorithms Siles finds and sometimes users resist them At times users do both Agency lies in the navigation of the spaces in between By analyzing what we do with algorithms rather than what algorithms do to us Living with Algorithms clarifies the debate over the future of datafication and whether we have a say in its development Concentrating on an understudied region of the global south the book provides a new perspective on the commonalities and differences among users within a global ecology of technologies
