Disciplinary Literacy in Action ReLeah Cossett Lent, Marsha McCracken Voigt, 2018-08-16 Much of the professional literature has focused on what disciplinary literacy entails this valuable contribution explores how it can be implemented in complex school settings Doug Buehl Author of Developing Readers in the Academic Disciplines What happens when middle and high school teachers who know their content very well are told they should be teaching reading and writing too Is there a bit of resistance A decrease in self efficacy An overturning of curricula In Disciplinary Literacy in Action ReLeah Cossett Lent and Marsha Voigt show us a better way In this sequel to ReLeah's bestselling This Is Disciplinary Literacy the authors provide educators with what they've wanted all along a framework that keeps their subjects at the center and shows them how to pool strengths with colleagues in ongoing communities of professional learning PL around content specific literacy In each chapter and with a blend of lively disciplinary literacy teaching ideas and razor sharp insights on developing teacher efficacy and leadership ReLeah and Marsha take educators through a powerful PL cycle they can replicate in their school The authors know it works not just because the research says so but also because they have spent years refining the model in schools districts and regions With this book you will be ready for Collaborative learning that preserves discipline specific content yet keeps innovative daily practices of reading writing thinking and doing at the forefront Planning by autonomous literacy leadership teams with administrative support Implementation augmented by peer and disciplinary literacy coaching Reflection that leads to ongoing collective problem solving In the end it all comes back to how content teachers can best help students use literacy in all its forms to learn more deeply With Disciplinary Literacy in Action you have a proven framework for doing just that This is the resource to lean on as you work to ensure all students use literacy as a tool to think create and communicate in any endeavor

Reading at a Crossroads? Rand J. Spiro, Michael DeSchryver, Michelle Schira Hagerman, Paul M. Morsink, Penny Thompson, 2015-03-05 The Internet is transforming the experience of reading and learning through reading Is this transformation effecting a radical change in reading processes as readers synthesize understandings from fragments across multiple texts Or conversely is the Internet merely a new place to use the same reading skills and processes developed through experience with traditional print based media Are the changes in reading processes a matter of degree or are they fundamentally new And if so how must reading theory research and instruction adjust This volume brings together distinguished experts from the fields of reading research teacher education educational psychology cognitive science rhetoric and composition digital humanities and educational technology to address these questions Every question is not answered in every chapter How could they be But every contributor has many thoughtful things to say about a subset of these important questions Together they add up to a comprehensive response to the issues the field faces as it approaches what may well be or not a crossroads A website devoted to extending discussion around the book in creative and disjunctive ways readingatacrossroads net moves it beyond the printed page

Studies in the Victorian and Neo-Victorian Novel

Adrian Radu, 2024-02-29 Readers of the nineteenth century novel expected literature to be a form journalism and fictional history They wanted to read about easily identifiable situations with a chronological straightforward and easily discernible development of plot familiar backgrounds and credible characters About a hundred years later the Victorian novel became the great tradition omnipresent and reliable However today the age and the context are different and novels need more substance including such themes as memory race and empire sex and science spectrality and the heritage industry or key issues like gender sexuality and postmodernism All these elements are considered Neo Victorian which in spite of their novelty do point to a certain Victorian anchor This volume contains ten studies the substance of which is the analysis of novels that according to their date of publication are products of the Victorian and Neo Victorian periods as defined above The authors investigate and discuss Victorian roots and characteristics preserved or recycled Victorian themes Neo Victorian characters and motifs or any other characteristics that may label them as Victorian or Neo Victorian products
