The SAGE Encyclopedia of Journalism Gregory A. Borchard, 2022-01-28 Journalism permeates our lives and shapes our thoughts in ways that we have long taken for granted This set covers all significant dimensions of journalism such as print broadcast and Internet journalism U S and international perspectives and history technology legal issues and court cases ownership and economics The encyclopedia consists of signed entries from scholars experts and journalists NETWORKING 2009 Luigi Fratta, Henning Schulzrinne, Yutaka Takahashi, Otto Spaniol, 2009-05-07 What a difference a year makes 52 little weeks This variation of the first line from Dinah Washington's famous song which originally reads What a difference a day makes 24 little hours brings it to the point According to all experts the press and most people's impression were today in a serious economic recession Less than one year ago we practically lived on the island of the blessed namely at Networking 2008 that was held on the island of Singapore or in the famous country where milk and honey flow or where wine and liquor flow This convenient situation has changed abruptly within less than 52 weeks It looks like the same kind of problems has emerged in all areas and the Networking area has of course been affected too Looking into the 2009 proceedings however you will immediately notice that the manuscripts are largely unaffected by any aspect of the economic crisis which should be a bit of a consolation Apparently research directions are dictated by a process that is all too sluggish in order to be quickly and radically changed by a tsunami Likewise the conference itself was prepared in spite of such a crisis

Streaming and Copyright Law Lasantha Ariyaratna, 2022-09-05 This book examines the challenges posed to Australian copyright law by streaming from the end user perspective It compares the Australian position with the European Union and United States to draw lessons from them regarding how they have dealt with streaming and copyright By critically examining the technological functionality of streaming and the failure of copyright enforcement against the masses it argues for strengthening end user rights The rising popularity of streaming has resulted in a revolutionary change to how digital content such as sound recordings cinematographic films and radio and television broadcasts is used on the internet Superseding the conventional method of downloading using streaming to access digital content has challenged copyright law because it is not clear whether end user acts of streaming constitute copyright infringement These prevailing grey areas between copyright and streaming often make end users feel doubtful about accessing digital content through streaming It is uncertain whether exercising the right of reproduction is appropriately suited for streaming given the ambiguities of embodiment and scope of substantial part Conversely the fair dealing defence in Australia cannot be used aptly to defend end users acts of streaming digital content because end users who use streaming to access digital content can rarely rely on the defence of fair dealing for the purposes of criticism or review news reporting parody or satire or research or study When considering a temporary copy exception end users are at risk of being held liable for infringement when using streaming to access a website that contains infringing digital content even if they lack any knowledge about the content's infringing nature Moreover the grey areas in circumventing geo blocking have made end users hesitant to access websites through streaming because it is not clear whether technological protection measures apply to geo blocking End users have a severe lack of knowledge about whether they can use circumvention methods such as virtual private networks to access streaming websites without being held liable for copyright infringement. Despite the intricacies between copyright and access to digital content, the recently implemented website blocking laws have emboldened copyright owners while suppressing end users' access to digital content. This is because the principles of proportionality and public interest have been given less attention when determining website blocking injunctions.
