BPM Everywhere Nathaniel Palmer, Scott Francis, Peter Whibley, Surendra Reddy, Peter Fingar, Dr Setrag Khoshafian, Larry Hawes, Charles Webster, Vinay Mummigatti, Roy Altman, James Taylor, Joseph B. Lail, Keith D. Swenson, Rudiger Pryss, Stuart Chandler, David RR Webber, Mark Casey, Wil van der Aalst, Dr Anne Rozinat, Matthias Walter, Mara Nikolaidou, Alberto Manuel, 2019-10-23 We are entering an entirely new phase of BPM the era of BPM Everywhere or BPME BPME represents the strategy for leveraging not simply surviving but fully exploiting the wave of disruption facing every business over the next 5 years and beyond Without question one of the single most disruptive events in the last decade was the introduction of the smartphone Consider for a moment how great of an impact this has had on the relationship between businesses and their customers Not even the emergence of the Web and Internet based digital native business models can compare with the level of intimacy now available with your customers In the era of the Internet of Things where smart homes appliances cars phones virtually imaginable devices are all connected BPM must and will be everywhere As Peter Whibley discusses in The Internet of Things Will Be Invisible by 2025 there are expected to be more than 26 billion or more connected devices In the chapter Digital Prescriptive Maintenance Disrupting Manufacturing through IoT Big Data and Dynamic Case Management Dr Setrag Khoshafian introduces the 4 Vs of thing data specifically Volume Velocity Variety and Value From monitors and remote sensors to appliances and vehicles to tens of billions of other things connected devices are generating meaningful and informative data that would easily overwhelm any human being but collectively they present critical context about processes

and the state of operations Big Data has never been so large nor presented such an acute role within enterprises and the processes that drive them BPME as well as traditional BPM methods can already be found at the center of this Its role will grow exponentially Emergent factors such as process mining see chapter Mining the Swarm by Keith Swenson et al will be critical for uncovering engagement patterns and the need for process management platforms to coordinate interaction and control of smart devices It is intelligent BPM that is expanding the window of what can be automated by enabling adaptable automation The mobile strategies in far too many organizations seem to be the building of apps that presume that customers will use their smartphones like mini laptops This avoids the fact that we now have a level of intimacy with our customer we ve never had before As discussed in the chapter BPM to Go Supporting Business Processes in a Mobile and Sensing World our customers are carrying around a device that offers a range of capabilities unlike any laptop A smartphone produces volumes of meaningful data about our customers think about the 4Vs and is able to interact with that customer in ways that a laptop never can The growing ubiquity of connectivity always within reach combined with new services and capabilities such as mobile banking is a key part of driving constantly changing expectations Yet digital disruption is not limited to mobile devices and is in fact disrupting everywhere BPM is otherwise found and why BPM everywhere is becoming the new normal

U.S. Consumer Electronics Industry Today ,1999 The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures Vaike Fors,Martin Berg,Meike Brodersen,2024-09-23 How does automation affect us our environment and our imaginations What actions should we take in response to automation Beyond grand narratives and technology driven visions of the future what more can automation offer With these questions in mind The De Gruyter Handbook of Automated Futures provides a framework for thinking about and implementing automation differently It consolidates automated futures as an inter and transdisciplinary research field embedding the imaginaries interactions and impacts of automation technology within their social historical societal cultural and political contexts Promoting a critical yet constructive and engaging agenda the handbook invites readers to collaborate with rather than resist automation agendas It does so by pushing the agenda for social science humanities and design beyond merely assessing and evaluating existing technologies Instead the handbook demonstrates how the humanities and social sciences are essential to the design and governance of sustainable sociotechnical systems Methodologically the handbook is underpinned by a pedagogical approach to staging co learning and co creation of automated futures with rather than simply for people In this way the handbook encourages readers to explore new and alternative modes of research fostering a deeper engagement with the evolving landscape of automation The Forum ,1927 What Matters for Health and Happiness Among the Older Adults in Asia Nai Peng Tey,Halimah Awang,Shekhar Chauhan,2024-03-11 People want to live a healthy and happy later life A large body of literature shows the close association between health status and happiness and between health and active engagement in work exercise and social and religious activities However the causation between the two can run both ways and it is difficult to determine the causal effect with cross sectional data Various authors have shown the significant influence of socioeconomic factors and human needs on older people s health status and happiness A better understanding of the factors affecting healthy and happy aging is essential for policymaking to improve the well being of older people The availability of data from HRS family studies in several Asian countries CHARLS in China LASI in India JSTAR in Japan KLoSA in Korea IFLS in Indonesia HART in Thailand MARS in Malaysia and Longitudinal Study of Ageing and Health in Viet Nam see Gateway to Global Aging Data provides an excellent opportunity for researchers to examine factors affecting health and happiness among older adults within and across Asian countries This research topic aims to gather papers that investigate the socioeconomic attitudinal and behavioural factors affecting the health status and happiness life satisfaction of older adults in Asia The dependent variables may include physical health mental health disability ADL IADL cognitive functioning self rated health health expenditure feeling of happiness and life satisfaction The independent variables may be age gender marital status place of residence educational level active engagement work exercise social and religious activities family and social relationship and support outlook in life smoking drinking and access to and utilization of healthcare services etc Manuscripts can be based on individual countries or cross country analysis preferably using the panel data to establish the causal effects of the independent variables on the dependent variables
