(The Big Idea Series)* (The Big Idea Series) Alice Bell, 2020-04-21 This new volume in The Big Idea series surveys the detrimental impact humans have had on the planet and evaluates what we can do to reverse the damage The effects of global warming are being felt around the world through climate change and images of our rivers and oceans choking with plastic have provoked an instinctive horrified reaction In response governments corporations and individuals are beginning to change their policies and behavior but is it too little too late Is it still possible to reverse the damage we have done to the planet This title in The Big Idea series Can We Save the Planet provides an in depth understanding of global warming climate change and the disastrous effects on our oceans through the prevalence of single use plastics It begins by setting out the evidence and arguments concerning the relationship of escalating carbon emissions and deforestation with the planet's environmental decline It offers insightful analysis of our consumerist throwaway culture and evaluates whether we can save the planet through a combination of proactive individual action and governmental policy or if we can only react to the problems caused as they arise using modern technologies Can We Save the Planet is an incisive engaging and authoritative text on one of today's key issues written by an expert in the field The Two Greatest Ideas Linda Trinkaus Zagzebski, 2023-06-27 In The Two Greatest Ideas Linda Zagzebski tells the history of two hugely impactful ideas and their crucial role in shaping human culture over the last two thousand years These ideas Zagzebski argues underlie virtually all of the intellectual innovations of human civilization yet are so simple they are almost invisible The first idea is that the human mind is capable of grasping the universe The second is that the human mind is capable of grasping itself Based on a series of lectures given in 2018 at Soochow University Zagzebski offers an ambitious big history narrative of the emergence and influence of these two ideas and the tension and conflict between them The idea that the human mind can grasp the universe had a significant influence on culture in many parts of the world in the first millennium BCE giving rise to physics mathematics philosophy and most major religions In the early modern period however particularly in the West the idea that the human mind can grasp itself supplanted some of the wider focus and popularity of the idea that human mind can grasp the universe revealing something important was missing namely the subjectivity of minds This transformation was reflected in radical changes in philosophy political thought art literature religion and science In this book Zagzebski provides a new frame for understanding the intellectual underpinnings of Western culture and thought through an illuminating exploration of the history and contemporary legacy of these two great ideas including reflections on their history in Eastern thought Zagzebski also reveals the deep roots of some familiar divisions in contemporary culture e g autonomy versus harmony and rights versus responsibilities as they relate to the great ideas The book then concludes with a discussion of what reconciling the two great ideas might entail including the possibility of a third great idea
