German Pop Literature Margaret McCarthy, 2015-04-24 Pop literature of the 1990s enjoyed bestselling success as well as an extensive and sometimes bluntly derogatory reception in the press Since then less censorious scholarship on pop has emerged to challenge its flash in the pan status by situating the genre within a longer history of aesthetic practices This volume draws on recent work and its attempts to define the genre locate historical antecedents and assess pop's ability to challenge the status quo Significantly it questions the official story of pop literature by looking beyond Ralf Dieter Brinkmann's works as origin to those of Jürgen Ploog Jörg Fauser and Hadayatullah Hirsch It also remedies the lack of attention to questions of gender in previous pop lit scholarship and demonstrates how the genre has evolved in the new millennium via expanded thematic concerns and new aesthetic approaches Essays in the volume examine the writing of well known established pop authors such as Christian Kracht Andreas Neumeister Joachim Lottman Benjamin Lebert Florian Illies Feridun Zaimoğlu and Sven Regener as well as more recent works by Jana Hensel Charlotte Roche Kerstin Grether Helene Hegemann and songwriter poet Peter Licht

Cultures of Violence in the New German Street Patricia Anne Simpson, 2011-11-21 In post Wall Germany violence both real and imagined is increasingly determining the formation of new cultural identities Patricia Anne Simpson's book focuses on the representation of violence in three youth subcultures often characterized by aggression as they enact a rivalry for supremacy on the new German street the author's operative metaphor to situate the cultural discourse about violence The selected literary texts films and music exemplify the urgent need for a sustained debate about violence as an aspect of both social reality and the national imaginary Simpson's study discloses the relationship between narratives of violence and issues of immigration ethnic difference and poverty Her lucid readings examine the ways in which violence is grounded in the asphalt of Germany's new street This interdisciplinary study identifies the motivations decisions and consequences of violent acts and the stories that convey them Simpson draws examples from popular genres and subcultures including punk hip hop and skinhead sounds styles and politics With theoretical sophistication and analytical clarity the author locates the contested territory of the street within larger European contexts of violence while paying careful attention to the particularities of German history She reveals new insights into the construction of citizenship masculinity and contemporary ethics In addition Simpson demonstrates the importance of concepts embedded in the representation of violence including revised definitions of heroism community and evolving ideas of fraternity family and home

A New History of German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski, Michael David Richardson, 2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College

Dennis,1998 Popular Cinema of the Third Reich Sabine Hake,2001 Too often dismissed as escapist entertainment or vilified as mass manipulation popular cinema in the Third Reich was in fact sustained by well established generic conventions cultural traditions aesthetic sensibilities social practices and a highly developed star system not unlike its Hollywood counterpart in the 1930s This pathfinding study contributes to the ongoing reassessment of Third Reich cinema by examining it as a social cultural economic and political practice that often conflicted with contradicted and compromised the intentions of the Propaganda Ministry Nevertheless by providing the illusion of a public sphere presumably free of politics popular cinema helped to sustain the Nazi regime especially during the war years Rather than examining Third Reich cinema through overdetermined categories such as propaganda ideology or fascist aesthetics Sabine Hake concentrates on the constituent elements shared by most popular cinemas famous stars directors and studios movie audiences and exhibition practices popular genres and new trends in set design the reception of foreign films the role of film criticism and the representation of women She pays special attention to the forced coordination of the industry in 1933 the changing demands on cinema during the war years and the various ways of coming to terms with these filmic legacies after the war Throughout Hake s findings underscore the continuities among Weimar Third Reich and post 1945 West German cinema They also emphasize the codevelopment of German and other national cinemas especially the dominant Hollywood model Place and Politics
